TOWN DISPOSAL AREA IS CALLED HEALTH MENACE

Members of the Gettysburg borough council, Cumberland Twp. supervisors, representatives of the state department of health and a group of residents of Cumberland and Mt. Joy Twp. were agreed Monday night that the present borough disposal area, which state officials called "a serious health menace," must be closed.

Wilson Clapsaddle presented a petition signed by a number of residents south of the disposal area who complained of the odor and smoke and asked that it be closed.

Frantz Martin and Raymond Redding were the Cumberland Twp. supervisors at the council meeting in the engine house on E. Middle St.

Present Area Filled

Thomas T. Lynch, regional sanitarian of the Pennsylvania Department of Health, Lewistown, and John A. Sheffer Jr., 340 Baltimore St., Adams County sanitarian, represented the state health department.

LeRoy H. Winebrenner, borough engineer, said the present area is just about at the point where it can hold no more before it moves into Rock Creek.

Others feel there is space that can be used on the ten acres that the town owns in Cumberland Twp.

Cumberland Twp. officials were in agreement that a sanitary land fill method would be approved by them if the borough set up such a method of debris disposal in that township.

Plan Joint Disposal

It was also agreed that Cumberland and Gettysburg would jointly use the disposal system.

Lynch indicated that the "sanitary landfill" method is generally the most practical for communities the size of Gettysburg, but added that either that method, incineration or composting are approved by the state.

Incineration, Lynch said, is the

11 KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

CHINCOTEAGUE, Va. (AP) — A Navy twin-engine propeller bomber plunged to earth shortly after taking off from the Chincoteague Naval Air Station today, killing 11 members of its crew.

Identification was withheld pending notification of kin.

A Navy spokesman said the Neptune long-range bomber crashed in an open field near Atlantic, Va., on the Eastern Shore just south of the Maryland line.

The spokesman said personnel at the base reported hearing an explosion and seeing a ball of fire a minute after the bomber was airborne.

The land-based plane was stationed at Chincoteague.

SHENK NAMED TO MILLARD'S COUNCIL SEAT

Gettysburg borough council Monday evening at its meeting in the engine house accepted the resignation of Councilman John Millard, and named and installed James S. Shenk to fill the vacancy.

The resignation of Millard, who was serving his second term as a councilman from the Second Ward, was read at the opening of Monday's meeting. Millard in a letter to council said his employment at Harrisburg, which prevents his being readily accessible to the people of the Second ward, was his reason for resigning.

The resignation was accepted "with extreme regret." Then Council President H. M. Oyler asked Second Ward Councilman Harold Ecker if he had any suggestion to fill the vacancy.

Sworn In Immediately
Ecker recommended former Councilman Shenk and the council quickly approved Shenk to fill the unexpired term of Millard which will end December 31, 1959.

It was noted that Shenk had been defeated by Ecker in last year's election. Ecker, referring to the recount which had led to Ecker being seated rather than Shenk, who on the original official count had been listed as the winner, said: "Jimmy and I were victims of circumstances and not each other."

Shenk, who had been notified in advance that he was going to be appointed, was sworn in by Burgess William G. Weaver and immediately took his place at the council table.

He was named as chairman of the sewer committee and as a member of the property and finance committees, all posts that had been held by Millard.

BOARD HAS NO PLANS TO SELL LINCOLN SCHOOL

Members of the Gettysburg borough school board has no plans now to sell the Lincoln School if it should not be needed temporarily after the construction of the new grade school building on land the joint school district is acquiring from the county farm on Wednesday. It was indicated at a 90-minute session of the local school directors Monday evening at the high school.

The directors spent much of the meeting deciding what they should report to the joint school board meeting next Monday as the local board's attitude on the disposition of the Lincoln School building if it should not be needed for a time after the new building is erected.

Long discussion resulted in the adoption of this statement on the board's position on the matter: "At present the Gettysburg Board feels it will not dispose of the Lincoln School building until such disposition is recommended by the Joint School Board." There were no dissenting votes.

Must Decide Building Size

Early in the meeting the directors learned from Superintendent H. Edgar Riegle that a recent conference of local school officials at Harrisburg brought the information that the state Department of Public Instruction will not require the closing of Lincoln School but will permit it if the local district wishes to retire it from service. If it is continued, however, the state anticipates it will be on an eight classroom basis instead of the present emergency 10-room setup.

One of the major decisions to

Eleven Perish In Flaming Crash Of Neptune Bomber

CHINCOTEAGUE, Va. (AP) — A Navy Neptune bomber "exploded in a great ball of fire" shortly after takeoff today and carried its 11 crewmen to death in a flaming crash on Virginia's Eastern Shore.

The twin-engine long-range aircraft ran into trouble a minute after it left the strip at the Chincoteague Naval Air Station. There was a sputtering noise, a witness reported, when the plane was only a couple of hundred feet in the air then a window-rattling blast and the plunge to earth in a big plume of smoke.

No Chance To Jump

It slammed into a plowed field on the farm of Dennis Hurley, two miles south of the air station near the Maryland line.

The Navy said the propeller driven aircraft had taken off for Cherry Point, N.C.

The 11 occupants had no opportunity to jump at such a low altitude. All apparently were buried in the burning fuselage in the 10-foot hole it made in the sandy soil.

Earl W. Darby, who runs a general store in the small community of Atlantic, was one of the first on the scene. He described the main explosion as "a great ball of fire."

Darby said he saw the plane shortly after the takeoff. It was headed south and appeared to be not over 200 or 300 feet in the air when it turned back toward the base.

SHEADS TELLS BATTLE YARNS TO KIWANIS

Stories of the Battle of Gettysburg were narrated by Jacob M. Sheads, Gettysburg High School history teacher, at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Monday night at Banker's Restaurant.

George Washington Sandoe was the first Union soldier to die at Gettysburg, Sheads said. A member of Company B, Independent 21st Pennsylvania Cavalry, Sandoe and William Lightner came upon pickets of Confederate General Gordon's brigade. They were ordered to halt near the Nathaniel Lightner property. Both sought to escape. Lightner's horse leaped a fence, Sandoe's horse fell and he was shot and mortally wounded on June 26, 1863. He is buried in Mt. Joy Church Cemetery.

Visits His Father

Henry Wentz, a native of Gettysburg, who was apprenticed to the Zeigler coach-making firm here, frequently delivered Gettysburg-made carriages to Virginia. In the early 1850s he moved to Martinsburg to establish a carriage shop of his own. When the Civil War began he enlisted and during the battle of Gettysburg he commanded a Confederate battery posted in the rear of his father's house at the Peach Orchard. He visited the home on July 2 and was surprised to find his father still residing there.

"Lt. Stephen Brown of the 13th Vermont Regiment fought through the Battle of Gettysburg armed only with a hatchet. He had his sword taken from him when he was arrested for disobeying orders by providing water for his men on the march. Released from arrest with the start of the battle here, he could not locate his sword and obtained a hatchet as a weapon."

Sheds told a number of other stories, including the death of Wesley Culp, with the Confederate forces on Culp's Hill, on his own farm.

Carl Schutt reported at Monday's meeting that treatment of a boy with a cleft palate under Kiwanis sponsorship at Lancaster is "about halfway completed."

Queen Mary Uses Sea And Air To Operate Despite Strike

LONDON (AP)—The Cunard line today launched an $84,000 sea-and-air operation to sail the Queen Mary to New York from France instead of Southampton.

By-passing her home port because workers there refused to handle her, the 81,000-ton liner ended her transatlantic run at Cherbourg yesterday.

Today more than 1,000 Britain-bound passengers were ferried across the channel in the 22,000-ton Cunard ship Ivernia.

A tanker is to steam from Southampton with oil to refuel the Mary. A dozen planes were chartered to fly some 80,000 pieces of clean linen—tablecloths, napkins, towels, pillowcases and sheets—to Cherbourg. Cunard officials flew to the French port to buy tons of meat, fish and vegetables to stock the ship's larders.

Use Ship And Train

The Ivernia will be used again Thursday to ferry passengers from Plymouth to Cherbourg to board the Queen Mary. Cunard also arranged special trains to take passengers from London to

He said there was a "backfiring noise" as the plane flew back and suddenly it exploded.

The blast jarred buildings in the town.

Minutes later fire trucks and rescue teams from the air station arrived.

The storekeeper said he saw no other signs of bodies and figured most of them were in the main fuselage. The wreckage burned three hours.

The Navy withheld identification of the victims until their next of kin could be notified.

YOUNG STUDENT IS CRITICAL; FILE CHARGES

John Daly, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Daly, Englewood, N. J., and a sophomore at Mt. St. Mary's College, remained today in a "very critical" condition at the Warner Hospital where he has been a patient since early Sunday morning when a car in which he was a passenger crashed into an embankment at the intersection of the Tract Rd. and the Emmitsburg-Waynesboro Rd.

Maryland State Trooper W. G. Morgan, Emmitsburg, said today he has brought charges of failing to stop at a stop sign, speeding and reckless driving against Richard D. Gardner, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Gardner, Brodowntown, N. J., a junior at Mt. St. Mary's College, and driver of the car in which Daly was a passenger. The information against Gardner were filed before Magistrate Charles B. Gillelan, Emmitsburg. Processes have been served on Gardner at the Warner Hospital here where he is a patient.

Edward Galen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Galen, Philadelphia, a freshman and basketball player at the Mount, was fatally injured in the crash. He died Monday afternoon at 12:50 o'clock at the Warner Hospital. Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, listed a fractured skull and fractures of all bones of the nose and face as among the principal causes of death.

Trooper Morgan said at noon today that decision on whether to bring manslaughter charges against Gardner will be made by Maryland State's Attorney Nathaniel Barrick, at Frederick, after the officer can turn over to the state's attorney his completed report on the accident.

Gardner suffered a broken nose, and numerous lacerations and abrasions when the car struck the embankment, demolishing the vehicle.

Daly suffered fractures of the skull, nose, and right arm, a ruptured diaphragm, dislocated hip and other injuries.

Suez Decision Expected Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today he should know in the next 24 to 48 hours whether there is any serious prospect for a satisfactory settlement with Egypt on the operation of the Suez Canal.

Dulles told a news conference he thinks the nations which use the canal should have a much greater voice in its operation than is provided in proposals made by Egypt last week.

He also is seeking in counter proposals to Cairo to get Egypt committed firmly on any Suez Canal plan it may agree to.

The U. S. reply to Egypt's proposals went to Cairo Sunday.

Union Calls Off Costly Strike

LONDON (AP) — Union bosses today called off costly strikes in Britain's shipbuilding yards and factories pending the outcome of a government inquiry into their pay demands.

The strikes — 1½ million in the factories and 200,000 in the shipyards — were ordered to go back to work on Thursday.

The Confederation of Shipbuilding and Engineering Unions made up of 40 unions which has been running the strikes decided to call them off after a recommendation by its executive.

The decision was taken as the walkouts threatened to cripple Britain's automobile production and factories producing 40 per cent of the nation's exports.

The three-man court of inquiry begins its work tomorrow.

One of the most eminent heart surgeons in the United States, Dr. Charles Philmore Bailey, who addressed a joint meeting of Gettysburg civic clubs recently on heart disease, was scheduled to operate on an Adams County boy today to correct a heart condition and "save his life." It is a serious major operation but the surgeon is a specialist in this field. He was widely acclaimed after his recent address here and TIME magazine selected him for its cover feature last week. Below are excerpts from TIME's article:

"Dr. Bailey, at 46 one of the most daring innovators in heart surgery, was ready once again to push 'the limits set by nature' far beyond what was considered possible only five years ago.

"The anesthetized patient on the operating table was a man of 50 whose heart had been seriously damaged by rheumatic fever. Electrodes taped to his ankles and wrists led to an electrocardiograph screen. He had a blood pressure cuff on the left arm; and the usual tube down the windpipe hooked up to an oxygen cylinder. Surgeon Bailey, scrubbed and all but mummified in sterile gear, stepped up to the table. He drew a scalpel lightly across the patient's chest, barely breaking the skin in a thin red line, to show where he wanted the incision. Then he stood by, relaxed, while an assistant cut deeper. To the surgical nurse standing on a low stool at the foot of the operating table, surrounded by trays of sterile instruments, went a running fire of orders:

"Mosquito" (a small blood-vessel clamp).

"Four-O" (a thread size).

"Peanut" (a little pledget of gauze).

"Three dozen or more minor blood vessels had to be tied off to staunch the bleeding. One surgeon would hold a clamp on a blood vessel while another passed the suture silk around it, deftly tying knots. With ribs and

POLICE PROBE 3 ACCIDENTS; DAMAGE IS $960

Damage totaled $960 but no one was injured in three accidents investigated by state police Monday.

At 5:15 o'clock Monday evening, police said, Paul W. Durbin, 39, Littlestown R. 2, was parked in front of Fissel's store in Two Taverns. Mr. Durbin was waiting for his wife to leave the store.

John W. Morningstar, 40, Baltimore, driving an unloaded Anchor Motor Freight car carrier north, lost control of his vehicle and it crashed into the Durbin auto, police said. Damage was estimated at $200 to the truck and $400 to the car.

At 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon two miles north of Abbotstown at the intersection of the Abbotstown-East Berlin Rd. with a legislative route leading to New Oxford, Catherine C. Henry, 21, East Berlin R. 2, according to police, attempted a left turn, and struck a parked car owned by Frederick C. Slothour, Harrisburg. Damage totaled $150 to the Henry vehicle and $200 to Slothour's car.

Damage totaled $10 when two cars collided on the Harrisburg Rd. near Worley's Nursery at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Police said Thomas L. Beccraft, Fayetteville R. 2, headed south, was driving behind Giuseppe Parriccone, Endicott, N. J., who was behind a truck. Both cars tried to pass the truck simultaneously, police said, and bumped sides" in the attempt. Damage was $5 to each auto.

Town Council Considers Erecting Borough Building To Cost $114,000; Seek Information On Financing Plan

Gettysburg may construct a new municipal building.

While no final action was taken when a report of the Property committee recommending a new building was presented to council at its meeting Monday evening in the engine house, the council directed that its solicitor determine what methods of financing are legally acceptable, and there seemed general approval of the plans as presented.

Gorge W. Naugle, committee chairman, said his investigations showed a new concrete block and brick building could be constructed at a cost of about $114,000 to house the fire department, police department, provide rooms for council and other meetings and space for the borough highway department equipment.

President Eugene Murren also announced the next quarterly session will be held in York Springs June 24, a change from the regular date of July 1. Decision to change the date was made because of the Fourth of July activities of a number of companies and the Battle Anniversary observance by the Gettysburg Fire Department.

Edward Loeffel reported plans to begin soliciting advertising and obtaining information concerning the companies for inclusion in the year book. He said the solicitations will begin "immediately."

Would Sell Engine House
Naugle said such a structure would also provide additional space for parking if the community so desired. If the new municipal building is constructed, the present borough highways department shed in Race Horse Alley could be removed "and the land sold, if council so desires, or a 24-hour parking lot could be constructed with meters to provide income and additional parking facilities."

Renovation of the present engine house would cost "$50,000 to $60,000" Naugle said he had been informed by contractors. He added that he believes the present engine house on E. Middle St. could be sold for about $25,000.

"If we can get $25,000 for this building the cost of the new building would be about $90,000. We could sell bonds and pay for it by adding the two mills we took off the taxes a couple years ago. The cost would be only a few dollars a year to each taxpayer."

Firemen Favor New Building
A number of councilmen said that in discussion with residents of the town they had found a general agreement that a new municipal building should be constructed rather than have extensive renovations made to the present engine house.

Burgess William G. Weaver said the members of the fire department generally favored a new building to the present engine house, although the central location of the present engine house is better than any we can get."

May Get Option
Naugle said he had considered a number of possible sites and was given approval to enter into an option to buy land if he can.

Solicitor Eugene V. Bulleit was asked to present a report at the next council meeting on whether the council can vote a bond issue of $80,000 or whether the matter must be submitted to a general referendum for residents of the town.

COUNCIL GETS COMPLAINT ON NOISY PLANT

A committee headed by Burgess William G. Weaver and Solicitor Eugene V. Bulleit was appointed by council President H. M. Oyler at the meeting of council at the engine house Monday night to "see if the town can do anything about this noise at Eddie's Cleaners."

The action came after a group of residents of the southern end of town, represented by Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, appeared before council to complain of the noise and steam in connection with the use of a new higher pressure steam system at the establishment.

Attorney Hartman told council the noise "which generally comes in the middle of the night, or whenever the cleaner is not operating

FTC MAY CRACK DOWN ON SOME STAMP OUTFITS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission may crack down this month on several of the biggest trading stamp companies.

Complaints alleging law violations are awaiting action by the five-man commission which polices business practices, officials said.

They would mean new headaches to a booming 600-million-dollar business already fighting restrictive legislation in several states — with ardent help from housewives.

Some Specific Practices
The FTC investigation is not aimed at the basic legality of savings stamps.

The pending complaints are understood to be directed at specific practices of some of the estimated 400 companies which sell stamps to storekeepers and, after housewives have pasted them in little books, provide merchandise "premiums" in exchange.

FTC spokesmen have not divulged the charges, but the commission's bureau of investigation and litigation are known to have been exploring such questions as these:

Important Questions
Whether the advertising of premiums has been misleading.
Whether "unfair methods of competition" have been used — such as giving one store in an area the exclusive right to offer a certain company's stamps.

Whether any stamp company has discriminated, in setting a price on its stamps, between one store and another.

The use of the word "free" in describing premiums reportedly has been questioned by some officials on grounds that the housewife actually pays for the stamps in added cost of merchandise.

EDEN ADVANCES BOSTON VISIT

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Sir Anthony Eden, facing the threat of a recurrence of his old bile duct trouble, decided today to cut short his New Zealand vacation and leave by plane Thursday for medical treatment in Boston.

Prime Minister Sidney Holland announced that Eden and Lady Eden will head for Fiji to catch a transpacific airliner for Honolulu and Vancouver.

There is "increasing evidence of bile duct trouble and signs of early jaundice which require investigation without delay," said a medical bulletin issued in Wellington.

The bulletin was put out in consultation with Sir Horace Evans, Eden's medical adviser who is in London, and Dr. Richard B. Cattell of Boston's Lahey Clinic, who operated on Eden to ease a bile duct obstruction in June 1953.

The Edens originally planned to stay in New Zealand until the end of April.

Eden came to New Zealand in February after resigning as prime minister when his doctors said his health would not permit him to continue in office.

Dr. Bowen also spoke on the makeup and articles appearing in "The Rotarian," Rotary International magazine.

Past President Philip M. Jones presided at the meeting with 55 present.

Hoffacker, 20, Hanover, was arrested for failure to yield the right of way to oncoming traffic after his car, Hanover police say, was struck by another vehicle as Hoffacker was leaving a parking space in Hanover Monday at 4:20 p.m. Hanover borough police said the second car was driven by Ronald Hankey, 17, of Abington R. 1. ## S.S. COMPLETES SPEED PROBE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Secret Service has finished its investigation of President Eisenhower's speedy auto trip to Gettysburg, Pa., last Friday but the Service intends to live up to its name—secret.

The presidential run stirred up considerable fuss when newsmen, following, were flagged down by Montgomery County, Md., police, to a 55-mile limit. They wrote they had been doing 70-75 to keep up and the White House car roared on out of sight when they were cut down to the legal rate.

U. E. Baughman, Secret Service chief, got into it because one of his men was the driver.

This is the progression of Baughman's comments:

FRIDAY—"I don't have all the facts but I am going to look into the matter. I have no comment at this time."

"Ask Mr. Hagerty"
YESTERDAY—"The investigation is proceeding but it isn't completed yet. I'm not prepared to comment now."

TODAY—"The investigation is completed and I'm satisfied as to the facts of the case. No comment. Ask Mr. Hagerty."

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, has been declining to talk about the matter since Saturday when he quoted the county police as saying they observed no improper actions by the official three-car caravan. By that account the press cars were caught by a stop light and were speeding to catch up. Newsweek disagreed. They said they had to beat 90 to catch up after police quit conveying them.

"SWEET SOJOURN"

When hope begins to tumble down... and life seems filled with fears... I sojourn into nature's arms... and bid her dry my tears... I tell the clover-laden fields... of all my weary woe... then slowly clouds begin to lift... and with them heart-aches go... I talk things over with the trees... that seem to understand... leaves gently nod condolences... in manner sweet and grand... wild flowers take my frowns away... replacing them with smiles... instilling deep inside of me... new faith to tread the miles... the babbling brook laughs tenderly... it sings a happy song... in such a joyful place I know... to worry would be wrong... for nature is akin to God... and so when life seems cold... I sojourn in her loving arms... where wondrous dreams unfold.

breastbone now lying bare, Bailey chose which bones to cut, called "rib shears." A scrub nurse handed him a device like fowl shears with offset handles. With firm pressure of powerful hands, Bailey himself snipped the breastbone. "Rib spreaders," a bridge-like gadget was clamped in place; with a few turns of the screw it spread the ribs six inches apart. The assistants cut deeper through the chest. "Lung retractors." The heaving lungs were pushed aside. Many more blood vessels were tied off. Bailey slit the heart sac almost from top to bottom, took quick stitches in it, left long threads which were clamped to the rib spreaders to hold the sac open.

"At last the heart lay bare, red and purple with a greyish cast, glistening under the strong lights, quivering and rippling with life—a life Dr. Bailey and his team were fighting to save."

"Philadelphia's Bailey was impatient to touch down. He had strong personal reasons: As a boy of twelve, he had seen his father, a broker, die at the age of a lung hemorrhage, the direct result of heart disease. After what Bailey considers less than average preparation for such a post (New Jersey's Rutgers University, Philadelphia's Hahnemann Medical College, a year's internship, four years of general practice in Lakewood, N. J., two years of intensive lung surgery), he was placed in charge of chest surgery at Hahnemann in 1940. He is now professor and head of the department of thoracic surgery in Hahnemann Medical College and its attached hospital.

"After working on dogs for five years, duplicating earlier abortive mitral-valve operations, Bailey thought he knew what had been wrong with them, faulty approach and damaging the leaflets of the valves. He worked out his own approach, first put his finger inside a human heart to open a scarred mitral valve in June, 1945. Through an accident (no fault of Bailey's) the patient bled to death. Misfortune beset him in three other cases. Not until June 10, 1948, did he have "good risk" patient at Philadelphia's Episcopal Hospital. Mrs. Melville Ward, 24, of East Orange, N. J., an invalid for five years, had been told she had six months to live. Bailey slipped his finger through the "tail" of the auricle (the "appendage"), slid a knife along it and slit the joined valve leaves apart. Eight days later Claire Ward went to Chicago to appear before a meeting of chest physicians. Last October, almost nine years after her operation, she had a second child. She takes full care of her children and her second-floor walk-up apartment."

Umbrellas Raise Many Problems

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Can you trust a woman farther than a man with an umbrella? Or do men simply hate to be seen with an umbrella? Or are men pantywaists and feel they must stay in when it rains?

The suburban Jenkintown Bank and Trust Co. is asking such questions in an informal survey of why a good-will idea might run into quite a lot of money. A while back the bank started an umbrella-leading service for its customers. It set out 25 umbrellas, 15 for women and 10 for men, with tags reading: "A loan for a rainy day." Now all the women's umbrellas are gone, whereas only eight of the others are missing.

The bank is not giving up. A fresh stock has been ordered for lending in expectation of spring rains.

TO BAN WIRETAPPING

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The Pennsylvania State Senate passed 48-2 and sent to the House yesterday a bill to ban wiretapping. Sen. Benjamin Donolow, a Philadelphia Democrat, commented: "Wiretapping has gotten to such a point in Philadelphia that a city official can't even call home without his wire being tapped." He did not elaborate.

WANT DULLES TO TELL ASWAN DAM DECISION

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Senate Democrats demanded today that Secretary of State Dulles explain whether he canceled Aswan Dam financing plans in a deliberate move toward an economic aid showdown with Russia in the Middle East.

Dulles also faces questioning at a news conference today on that and other matters covered in a new biography of Dulles which the State Department describes as not official.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) backed up a proposal by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) that Dulles be called before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for fresh questioning about the decision.

Dulles announced last July 19 the withdrawal of an American offer to aid Egypt in building the proposed dam on the Nile River. A week later, Egypt nationalized the Suez Canal.

"Secret Letter?"

Sparkman said in an interview he also wants to know more about a secret letter reportedly written by President Eisenhower to Chiang Kai-Shek in 1955. The Dulles biography described it as "satisfying" the Nationalist China leader that the United States would help defend Quemoy and Matsu, the island approaches to Formosa.

"We were repeatedly told there were no secret agreements of this kind in these negotiations," Sparkman said.

The new book titled "John Foster Dulles: A Biography," was written by John Robinson (Jack) Beal, Time Magazine's diplomatic reporter.

BEIRUT (AP)—Twenty-three Lebanese political leaders have petitioned President Camille Chedid to accept U.S. economic and military aid under the Eisenhower Doctrine.

The Lebanese government endorsed the Eisenhower Doctrine two weeks ago during a visit by the American special envoy, James P. Richards. Agreement in principle was reached for U.S. help on a variety of development projects and certain military equipment.

TWO DEATHS ARE ACCIDENTAL

READING, Pa. (AP)—Dr. Paul Good, Berks County coroner, issued certificates of accidental death yesterday following post-mortem examination of a couple found dead at the foot of a stairway in their home on Sunday.

He said the autopsy revealed that Charles Frantz, 65, died of a cerebral concussion and that his wife, Nora, 62, died of suffocation. He set the approximate time of death at Friday night.

The coroner said he theorized that Mrs. Frantz fainted as she climbed the stairs ahead of her husband. In falling, she apparently caused her husband to fall down the stairs also, injuring him fatally. She fell on top of him and was wedged fast in the stairwell.

The bodies were found by police who investigated after the dead woman's sister, Mrs. Robert Dietrich, became alarmed when she was unable to get any response at the house.

Fingerprinting Chimp Tours N.Y.C.

NEW YORK (AP)—Betsy, Baltimore's fingerprinting chimp with the art world at her feet, set out today on a gay, mad whirl of the big city.

Zoo Director Arthur Watson and Betsy's keeper, Ben Gary, were her chaperons for the round of appearances which began with two national television appearances today. Watson also may buy Betsy a mate before returning to Baltimore Thursday.

On the train trip here, Betsy exhibited the sweeping motion which has won her acclaim in the art world (and brought the zoo $1,520 for paintings sold) by casually rubbing her hand over the window of her drawing room.

Late Parties, Pets Make Worst Noises

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—It's not industrial racket and the shrilling of auto horns that the mayor's noise abatement committee is going after.

The committee says half the complaints received last year concerned late parties, yowling pets and blaring musical instruments, radios and TV.

So the committee in a special drive this month is giving top priority to muffling the racket in residential areas.

COUNTY PSEA TO HONOR NATIONAL GROUP APRIL 4TH

The Adams County chapter of the Pennsylvania State Education Association will hold a "Centennial Party" at Rolling Acres Elementary School, Littlestown, Thursday, to honor the National Education Association.

The NEA was founded in 1857 at Philadelphia and today has a $7,000,000 building nearing completion in Washington. There are 700,000 members which includes teachers, supervisors, administrators from all levels, nursery school through universities.

"For a century the NEA has been the most representative voice of the teaching profession in America. Its purpose, as chartered by Congress in 1906, remains: To elevate the character and advance the interests of the profession of teaching and to promote the cause of education in the United States," a spokesman said.

Current Objectives

Its current program is to provide adequate school facilities; to recruit more and better teachers; to improve teaching methods and raise professional standards; to extend educational research; to improve the civic, economic and professional status of teachers, and to cooperate with other groups in support and improvement of schools.

The general committee in charge of the Centennial party which is being held in the form of a banquet is composed of Paul A. Harner and Mrs. JoAnne Breighner, co-chairmen; tickets, Lloyd L. Stavelly; invitations, Frank Keefer; decorations, Donald Sheely; publicity, Richard Thomas; and greeter, Frank Basehor and John Reilly.

Officers of the county chapter are: President, Charles E. Tressler, Littlestown; secretary, Miss Jane Bowers, Fairfield, and treasurer, Dean Stover, Littlestown.

Finds Chemicals To Improve Cottons

DALLAS (AP)—Changing the chemical element of fibers in cotton materials makes possible shirts that remain stiff without starch, says George Pfeifferberger of Lubbock, executive vice president of the Plains Cotton Growers.

He told the Texas Cotton Ginners Assn. that it also has made possible dresses that cannot be stained by coffee, tea or ink and slacks that will not wrinkle.

He said the new processes bring qualities which last as long as the cloth.

SURPLUS FOOD FATE UNCERTAIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's fight for authority to woo Soviet satellites with surplus agricultural commodities shifted to the House today after bowling over Republican leadership opposition in the Senate.

Its fate in the House, where a similar proposal died last year, was uncertain.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, led yesterday's unsuccessful fight to ban barter deals with Iron Curtain countries for strategic materials.

Extend Program

The administration had asked such authority. The Senate approved it in passing by voice vote a bill to make an additional billion dollars available to dispose of surpluses abroad. The bill also would extend the program one year, to June 30, 1958.

Knowland's fight against the barter plan, in which he was supported by Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, and Sen. Dirksen of Illinois, assistant GOP floor leader, was rejected 54-23.

Sen. Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the Conference of All Republican Senators, and 18 other Republican senators joined with 35 Democrats to defeat the amendment.

Twenty-one Republicans and Democrats' Senators Byrd and Robertson of Virginia supported it.

IKE OVERTAKES GOP CANDIDATES BY 7 MILLION

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower ran nearly seven million votes ahead of his party's candidates for the House of Representatives last November. They in turn trailed Democratic opponents by 1,134,000.

GOP House candidates, however, polled 2,938,000 more votes than Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee.

These statistics were made public today in an official compilation by the clerk of the House.

In only one state, North Dakota, did Eisenhower trail the combined Republican House vote. However, winning from the state-at-large, not the two House nominees were run from separate districts, and neither received as many votes as the President.

Vote Listed

The President's total popular vote was listed at 35,581,003, or about 57 per cent of the 62,027,040 ballots cast for president. Stevenson polled 25,758,765 votes. The remainder went to minority party candidates.

Republican House candidates polled 28,697,321 votes, almost 49 per cent. Democrats polled 29,831,608 for a net gain of two seats. They retained control of the House 234-201.

Harry Stine, clothier, Martin Winter's insurance agency and the U. S. National Park Commission. It was about 12:30 o'clock when fire was discovered in the cellar above mentioned by George E. Stock, who was passing by. An alarm was immediately turned in and notwithstanding the dead hour of night, five minutes after the alarm was sounded a plug stream was playing on the flames.

Although little property was damaged by the flames Mr. Stine's entire stock of clothing was ruined by the smoke and water. His loss is estimated at $10,000.

Today's Talk

DEBT

Personal indebtedness is something to stay as far away from as is possible. A good motto is this: Pay as you go, or don't go! Every time you go into debt you mortgage something of yourself. You are not wholly your own. It is not a cheerful, or happy, state to be in.

Nations go into debt and often this is their downfall. It's always thrilling to plan ahead and save for the future, and if this is done in an orderly way with short payments that can well be afforded, then the enjoyment becomes greatly augmented.

All debts are obligations, and the sooner met the better. We all like beautiful things, and the enjoyment in them, but we should not get so deeply in debt as to endanger what we have. Debts often create trouble and worry. Indebtedness is a form of slavery.

So long as you owe a debt you cannot remain very happy, and the one you dislike most to meet is the one to whom you owe money. Oliver Goldsmith, author of the "Deserted Village," was dogged by creditors all his lifetime, but he had such an inviting personality that when his creditor would come to collect, Goldsmith would engage him to talk and he would leave, having forgotten his errand to collect! I dare say there are few who could so fascinate a creditor!

Often it is that the one to whom you owe money may be one who had to sacrifice to aid you, so that you can be said to have borrowed on his labor. It is a wonderful feeling to be out of all debt. Owe no one. Be free and happy. We feel so much more respectable when we are out of all debt and owe no one.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Unshakable Faith" Protected, 1957, by The George Matthews Adams Service

BOY'S NEED

These are what a boy possesses: Strength and skill for what success is.

As the years go by he'll learn more.

Sad it is if this is lacking: Some man's thoughtful, friendly backing.

Give it to him. You can spare it. When success comes you will share it.

If a skillful man you've made him Proud you'll be that you could aid him.

Of the grownup working, playing, "That's my boy" you will be saying.

All he'll need with foes attacking Is some grownup's friendly backing.

He'll bear burdens that are on him

If you keep your eyes upon him. Cheer him! Say good words about him.

Urge him on and never doubt him.

When he better grows to know you

He'll have strength and skill to show you.

Be that friend and say: "Go to it! If you really try, you'll do it."

Stronger you have surely made him.

If you're standing by to aid him.

which is soul stirring to relate. Mr. Riggs was endeavoring to loosen some crushed shale from the outer edge of the dry pan with an iron bar. The bar was caught by the crusher, striking the young man on the head, knocking him unconscious into the revolving pan which, in a few seconds, would have carried him under the powerful crushers and his body would have been mashed into pulp. Mr. Heagy, who was working nearby, realizing the situation, grasped Mr. Riggs and pulled him from the pan just in time to save his life. After a few minutes Mr. Riggs regained consciousness and walked home. It was indeed a narrow escape.

THE HURRICANE HUNTERS

By CHASE WALKER

A storm is brewing. It could be a hurricane.

I am standing in the control tower of the Naval Air Station in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. The time is 8:30 a.m., September 26, 1955.

A group of men out on the runway make last minute preparations for a take-off. The twin-engine plane, a P-2V, is especially equipped for the dangerous mission of a hurricane hunter.

There is only one protection against hurricanes: Hunt them down while they are still over water, track their course, then warn the mainland if they should head for shore.

All Volunteers
This job is so dangerous that the Navy does not include it in ordinary duty assignments. All Hurricane Hunters volunteer.

Who are these men who voluntarily risk their lives to save yours? How do they go about tracking down a hurricane? These are questions I am down here to answer.

The propeller-driven plane out on the runway looks puny for the job ahead of it. Eleven men get aboard.

The plane's pilot, Lieutenant Commander Grover Windham, is a pleasant young man of 34 from Millport, Alabama.

Reports By Radio

Windham's plane heads off down the runway, circles the field, then disappears on the horizon. Almost immediately he reports in by radio.

"Winds already reaching 75 knots," and a little later: "Beginning penetration. . ."

Then I notice that the radio operator keeps looking at his watch.

"What's the matter?" I ask. We have lost contact with Grover Windham.

"Maybe their radio's knocked out," someone says hopefully.

Noon. No report.

Rescue Craft Out

The Commanding Officer sends out an Air-Sea Rescue Alert. Sixty planes and half a dozen surface craft start for the area, but no one is saying the obvious: a plane down in hurricane waters has no hope at all.

But meanwhile the hurricane still has to be tracked. Another P-2V is out on the runway now, getting ready to take off. I am going along.

The pilot comes up. "Ready?" I nod and follow him aboard. John Farrell is 26 years old married; his home is in Kansas City. This is his third season with the Hurricane Hunters.

Inside the plane, 11 men take their posts at a complex array of instruments and panels. A few will fly the plane, but most will record, measure, and photograph the ominously growing hurricane, Janet.

For Five Seasons

Attention centers around 29-year-old Lieutenant Alfred Fowler, flight aerologist. Fowler, married to a girl from his hometown of Waterloo, Iowa, has been hunting hurricanes for five seasons now. This makes him one of the country's ranking experts.

"She's already got winds of 90 knots," Fowler says. "She's heading for the mainland. I think she is going to be a wild one."

We take off in silence.

After a while Lieutenant Fowler looks up from his instruments. "That storm will release the energy of three atom bombs every second," he says, directing my attention to the dark clouds ahead.

Now we are at the edge of the storm. The radio operator is repeating the same words we heard from Windham.

"We are ready to penetrate. . ."

One of the boys crosses himself. Fowler notices my taking a note about this. "Navy men don't talk much about religion," he says. "But most of us do pray a little when we fly into one of these storms."

The plane gives a heavy lurch. I am thrown against the side. Each of us checks his safety belt. Suddenly the plane rises. Then it falls violently.

Vertical lifts and crosswinds toss the plane a thousand feet in the air, then drop her, frighteningly close to the storm-logged sea below. Spray hits her like hail.

A violent shudder rips through the plane. The winds jump to 100 knots. Deliberately we drop down close to the ocean so we can watch the winds on the water and estimate their speed.

In Solid Spray
As if to warn us not to come closer, the winds jump to 130 knots. Janet reaches down and literally explodes the top off the waves.

Farrell takes us still farther down, to within 300 feet of the water. We are in a solid sheet of spray. It's like flying in the top layer of the ocean.

Working as a team, the crew is getting vital information about Janet's personality: her size, the direction she is taking, the strength of her winds, the barometric pressures.

The winds continue to increase. Below is an island. Fowler leans over and shouts, "That tower — see that tower down there?" I nod. "It's built to stand winds of 150 knots!" The tower is flat on the ground.

To The Center
We bore steadily towards the very center of the hurricane. Tension mounts.

The winds reach 160 knots. The noise is deafening.

A plane can't take this buffeting indefinitely. The roar increases. . . And suddenly, so suddenly that it comes as a greater jolt than the pounding of the storm, there is an immense, breathtaking calm.

Above us are clear skies. The sun is blinding, and, unbelievable, there are birds flying frantically about.

We are in the silent eye of the hurricane. Within feet of us the

Lt. John Farrell

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—It may startle you but—the vice president tomorrow could declare the president unable to carry out his duties and announce himself as president.

So far the two vice presidents who had the best excuse for doing that — those who served under President Garfield, who lingered 80 days after being shot, and President Wilson, laid up for 17 months — did nothing of the kind.

But what would stop some future vice president — in a situation unimaginable now, say crisis, ambition, political conflict — from trying to get the presidency by declaring the president disabled?

The Constitution says: "In case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the vice president. . . ."

In that sentence the Constitution does one thing, fails to do another: 1. It gives the vice president power—to step into the presidency—on a contingent basis. That is, he assumes the office if the president is disabled.

2. It fails to say who decides the President is disabled. It does not say the vice president shall or shall not make the decision.

Under law, when a man is granted power on a contingent basis—and when there is no language to the contrary—the decision on when to assume that power is up to him. This was pointed out yesterday by Atty. Gen. Brownell, who told Congress:

"It is a well-established rule of law that in contingent grants of power the one to whom power is granted is to decide when the emergency has arisen. Thus the vice president is constituted the judge of the President's inability."

Brownell — representing the views of President Eisenhower — urged Congress to fill this gap in the Constitution by a constitutional amendment which he proposed. This was it:

A vice president himself would never be able to move into the presidency by declaring the president disabled. Instead, this would be the procedure: If a president was unable to carry out his duties and was mentally alert enough to know it, he could instruct the vice president — but he'd have to do it in writing — to take over temporarily until the president recovered.

If for any reason the President

Road Builders Get Critical Report Of Highway Department

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania's organized road builders Friday considered a report critical of the State Highways Department but withheld immediate action on it.

The board of directors of the Association of Pennsylvania Constructors received Thursday a "private study" prepared by its executive secretary, A. E. O'Brien, but took no action on it.

O'Brien said afterwards he had no desire to "particularly criticize the present administration" and that the report covered Highways Department operations over the last 10 to 15 years.

A dramatic touch was given the board meeting by the attendance of Secretary of Highways Joseph Lawler and 11 district engineers, who went before the road builders' board after holding a regular conference with Lawler at the Highways Department.

"This was a very fine meeting and I think there is a better understanding between us now," Law-was unable to carry out his duties but couldn't or wouldn't say so, the vice president could become President temporarily but only if a majority of the President's Cabinet approved in writing.

If the President never recovered the vice president, of course, would continue in the office of the presidency. But if the President recovered — and said so in writing — the vice president would have to step aside.

This was intended, among other things, to settle an old argument over this question: Is a vice president the permanent president once he takes over the duties of the presidency?

But students of the Constitution could find flaws, real or imagined, in Brownell's proposal. Because that's so, and because there is so much disagreement in Congress on what to do and how and whether anything needs to be done, it's almost certain nothing will be done.

ler told reporters.

At the same time, Lawler criticized a $100,000 appropriation sought for a House-Senate investigation of the Highways Department to continue until the end of 1958.

"I'm willing to cooperate but that $100,000 is strictly a political slush fund to start off the next (Republican) campaign," Lawler said, adding:

"There's no reason to throw that $100,000 down the drain."

O'Brien said he thought the investigation could do good "if handled right and they don't play politics with it."

Five-Member Board

O'Brien said his survey had as its ultimate aim creating a five-member state highway commission to replace the present Highways Department in operating the state's huge road building program. A Republican-sponsored bill to make that change is pending in the Legislature.

O'Brien's study said that in operation of the Highways Department as now set up "deterioration has reached the point where little or nothing is worth salvaging regardless of whom might be governor or what political party might be in power."

O'Brien gave the board of department's operations was "excellent" and that Lawler reported "they are going to carry it out and definitely can do the job."

Lawler said he told the contractors' board that the Highways Department is preparing to grant salary increases to some 1,000 technical workers, amounting close to 15 per cent.

Navy's plebe basketball team went undefeated in 16 games during the 1956-57 season.

ITALIAN DEAF MUTE BEATEN BY ALGERIAN

PARIS (AP) — Alphonse Halimi, a baby-faced little Algerian, was the new claimant to the world bantamweight boxing championship today. But he still has an argument and another fight on his hands before he can really call it his own.

Halimi scored a decisive 15-round decision last night over Mario D'Agata, a deaf-mute from Italy, who had held the title since last June but was making his first defense.

The battle was interrupted 15 minutes at the end of the third round by a fire which broke out among the lighting installations hanging over the ring.

Fire Brings Dispute

The fire provoked the argument about the title. Libero Cecchi, D'Agata's manager, claimed immediately after the fight that under the circumstances the referee should have halted it and called it "no contest."

Halimi's next fight involves Raul Macias of Mexico, recognized as the world bantamweight titleholder by the U. S. National Boxing Assn. The World Committee on Professional Boxing sanctioned last night's contest only on condition that the winner meet Macias before July 1.

D'Agata and Halimi put on a dull show, D'Agata, constantly the against the ropes and the two men stood head to head, flailing away. Halimi concentrated on the head, D'Agata aimed for the body. Hundreds of blows were exchanged, but little real damage was done.

DAN HODGE TO DEFEND TITLE

WAYNESBURG Pa. (AP) — Dan (Homicide) Hodge, recent winner of the NCAA 174-pound wrestling championship, heads the list of five defending champs entered in the AAU four-day wrestling tournament which begins tomorrow in this southwestern Pennsylvania town.

Hodge, a member of the Oklahoma University team, will represent the Tulsa YMCA tournament in the AAU tournament. He is the defending AAU champ in both the free style and the Greco-Roman styles.

Some 400 wrestlers in both classes are expected to see action in the tournament. The free-style wrestling events are scheduled Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the Waynesburg College gym.

The Greco-Roman competition will be held on Saturday. In this style, wrestlers are not allowed to use their legs to pin their opponents. All of the grips must be above the waist.

Among the defending champs coming here for the free style events are Tommy Evans of Tulsa at 147 pounds, and Bill Kerslake of Erie, Pa., in the heavyweight division.

me made at the joint board meeting next Monday will be the number of classrooms to be included in the new grade school building. The local board was told Monday the state will approve up to 18 with two rooms for special education classes.

With necessary figures not yet available, the board Monday delayed until a later meeting — possibly a special session — the adoption of a proposed budget for the 1957-58 school year.

12 Enrolled For Class

The proposed adult driver class for this summer already has 12 pupils enrolled, the board was told. The class will not be undertaken unless there are at least 15. The board anticipates additional enrollments.

The local school district recently received a check for $2,613 in federal aid based on the number of children in the borough schools whose parents are employed at federal installations.

The Gettysburg National Bank presented its monthly report as treasurer of the local district showing a balance of $39,208 with the town's share of the cost of the new school site paid.

President Ray J. Kitzmiller presided at the meeting with five directors present. The absentees were Mrs. Golda H. Collins and Mrs. M. Hardy Nichols.

WGET Will Carry All Phils' Games

The complete schedule of 154 league games played by the Phillies this season will be broadcast for local fans over radio station WGET, it was announced today. The Philadelphia club will open the 1957 campaign with the Giants at the Polo Grounds Thursday, April 18.

These broadcasts will originate with station WIP, Philadelphia, and will be carried over a network of 15 stations in Eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware. Sponsors of the program are The Atlantic Refining Company, P. Ballantine & Sons, Phillies Cigars and Tasty Baking Company.

Gene Kelly, Byrum Saam and Claude Haring, popular sports announcers who covered the television and radio broadcasts of the Phillies' games last year, will divide the play-by-play description of the contests again this season.

MIDDLECOFF AND SNEAD PICKED TO WIN MASTERS

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Dr. Cary Middlecoff and Sam Snead are winning the advance polls but a poker-faced gent named Ben Hogan is grabbing most of the attention in preparations for the Masters Golf Tournament, opening Thursday.

"I am hitting the ball so well it scares me," Hogan is reported to have confided to a close friend this week.

Asked point-blank about the statement, the Texas hawk stiffened and said, "Who said that? My game may scare somebody but it doesn't scare me."

Not Sharp Enough

"I feel I am hitting the ball okay, but I'm not as sharp as I'd like to be yet. I wouldn't make any predictions."

His companions were less bashful.

"I'll take him against any man in the field," said former Masters champion Claude Harmon. "Ben has been playing golf eight hours a day every day since Feb. 1. He's ready. And when he's ready you can touch him."

Byron Nelson added: "I have never seen Ben hit his tee shots better."

Hogan shot a 68, two under par, over the Augusta National course Sunday and yesterday recorded a 70.

AILING MOTHER KILLS KIDDIES

WASHINGTON, Ind. (AP) — A 34-year-old woman, under treatment for mental depression, killed her two children, one a baby, last night and then tried to end her own life, authorities said.

The children's father, Paul Shrock, also 34, found the bodies of the children, both girls, at 11:15 p.m. when he returned from his work as an orderly at the Davies County Hospital.

Both were in their beds. The baby, Marilyn, 3½ months, had been smothered with a pillow. Brenda Arlene, 7, had been strangled with a piece of rope.

The mother, Dorcas Shrock, had left her husband a note. At midnight, she walked into the police station and said she had killed her children.

Coroner H. O. Norton said Mrs. Shrock evidently had gone temporarily insane. He said it appeared Mrs. Shrock had tried to hang herself in a doorway in the home but the rope broke.

No charges were placed immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. Shrock operated a small grocery in the west part of the city. Neighbors said they were a very quiet and respected couple.

Discordant Note By Opera In Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Metropolitan Opera Co. rolled into Baltimore and immediately struck a discordant note.

Arrival of trucks at the Lyric Theater bearing the Met's equipment snarled rush hour traffic on Maryland Avenue. The result was a dissonant din from hundreds of irate drivers.

One driver caught in the snarl was Henry A. Barnes, city traffic director.

"Some people seem to think that because they're the Metropolitan Opera Co., they are something special," Barnes said later. "Well, I don't know, maybe they are."

A suggestion of increasing the width of streets from 30 feet to 32 or 34 feet was referred to the Highway committee.

WILLIE JONES X-RAYED AFTER BALL HITS HIM

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — "It's a good thing I was wearing my helmet. If I had my cloth cap on, I'd probably be dead right now."

That was Philadelphia Phillies' third baseman Willie Jones' reaction on Sunday after he was hit on the head by a thrown ball during the second inning of the game which the Phils lost to Cincinnati, 3-1.

Jones had singled and was heading for second on a ground ball hit by Roy Smalley. Cincinnati second baseman Johnny Temple grabbed the ball and threw to shortstop Alex Grammas at second for the force on Jones. Grammas let go a bullet throw toward first in a double play attempt. It struck Jones at almost point-blank range.

Wears His Helmet

Jones is one of the few players who wears his plastic batting helmet while running bases. The ball split the peak of his helmet and caromed off to centerfield. The veteran infielder was hurried to a hospital for X-rays, which showed no fracture. A doctor used six stitches to close a cut on his head and said Jones would be able to return to action within a few days.

Last spring Jones suffered a hair-line skull fracture when he was struck above the left ear by a Don Newcombe pitch in an exhibition game with the Brooklyn Dodgers. He was hospitalized for five days and out of the lineup until shortly before the opening of the season.

JOEY ROWAN IS 14TH VICTIM OF CROWE PEELE

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Joey Rowan, 14th straight victim of heavyweight hope Crowe Peele, headed for the Army today with a prediction the former collegiate champion "ain't going nowhere."

The 22-year-old Philadelphia bruiser bowed to Peele last night when referee Lucian Jaubert refused to let him answer the bell for the ninth round because of cuts that closed both eyes.

Rowan scaled 193 to 182½ to the former Louisiana State University star from Baton Rouge and had things well in hand until the fifth. Peele reversed the early order and was dishing out punishment when the end came.

"Been Hit Harder"

"This guy ain't going nowhere," Rowan told reporters he couldn't see as he nursed swollen eyes in his dressing room. "I've been hit harder by smaller guys wearing bigger gloves in the gym."

"I know this sounds funny with me sitting here with both eyes punched closed," he continued, despite his handlers' attempts to quiet him. "That's always been my weak point. I go great guns for four or five rounds and then a tap will close my eyes."

Rowan said he was "sorry to lose in his final bout for a while since he starts a two-year Army hitch in two weeks."

COUNCIL GETS

for building permits which would make it twice as expensive to dig up a newly surfaced street as it would to dig in one where the surfacing was several years old, or where no surface had been placed as yet.

Council discussed designation of through streets in the newly developed sections of town "so we can decide where to place stop signs."

To Paint Street Lines

The chairman of the Property committee, George W. Naugle, was asked to keep a list of "who is meeting in the council chambers so that there will be no overlapping of meetings."

Approval was given to purchase of paint for painting of lines on the streets and curbs.

A petition from Grover Thompson asking that a "no parking" sign be moved from in front of his Steinwehr Ave. restaurant was rejected with council holding the sign had been placed at the spot at Mr. Thompson's original request.

Buy New Flags

Purchase of 36 new decorative flags was authorized. The secretary was authorized to advertise for bids for 10,000 gallons of oil and 500 tons of stone for street construction.

Borough Engineer LeRoy Winebrenner was given authority to place a "stop" sign at Barlow and Fourth St. intersection.

A suggestion of increasing the width of streets from 30 feet to 32 or 34 feet was referred to the Highway committee.

Bullet Golfers Will Host Mount

Bob Davies' Gettysburg College golfers will open their campaign Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock when they meet Mt. St. Mary's on the Gettysburg Country Club course.

George McGowan, George Potter and Wally VanDyke, veterans from last year, have been named by Coach Davies as the number one, two and three men, respectively. Al Mayhew, an alternate last year, is the number four man; Dick Butz, a sophomore, is number five, and Billy Bunce, a letterman two years ago, is number six.

George Bender, of Gettysburg, a returnee from Army service, is the alternate.

GARVER LOOKS GOOD AGAINST BUCS FOR SIX

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maybe all Ned Garver needed was a pat on the back.

The sore-armed right-hander had been disappointing this spring to the Kansas City Athletics, who picked him up in that seven-pitcher deal with the Detroit Tigers last December. In 10 exhibition innings, he had been tagged for 14 hits and 17 runs. He had walked eight.

Then yesterday, Manager Lou Boudreau got around to naming a six-man starting-pitcher list, and Garver was on it. So what happens? The 31-year-old veteran worked the first six innings of a "double-header" with Pittsburgh — an 18-inning scoreless tie — and allowed only three hits and one walk.

Others Rained Out

It was the only exhibition game played. All the others were rained out.

The A's also got their first good job from Maury McDermott, the ex-Yankee and also on Boudreau's starting six. The lefty followed Garver and gave just two hits, walked two and struck out six in his seven innings.

The A's got 11 hits — all singles — off Ron Kline, Bob Purkey and Vern Law in the longest game of the spring. The Pirates, sending Kline and Purkey on seven-inning stints, managed only seven hits, with Roberto Clemente's first-inning double the game's only extra-base hit.

The game was called to enable the Pirates to get back to Fort Myers from West Palm Beach.

GOP PLACES TAX MEASURE UP TO LEADER

HARRISBURG (AP)—Republicans—rejecting compromise—left it squarely up to Gov. Leader today to approve or veto without change new sales tax exemptions to manufacturers, utilities and shipyards.

The governor has until midnight Thursday to make up his mind on a course of action—one that will bear on the length of the 1957 Legislature and possibly carry overtones into the 1958 gubernatorial campaign.

A veto without any further action by the Republican Legislature would mean an automatic cut in the 3 per cent sales levy to 2 per cent June 1—and a revenue loss of as much as 160 million dollars.

Veto Not Known

The governor and Republican and Democratic legislative leaders conferred for nearly two hours after supper at the Executive Mansion last night.

Leader declined to say whether he would veto the amendments but George I. Bloom, Republican state chairman, made the GOP position clear.

"We have found no evidence that the Senate amendments will result in the loss of any substantial revenue now being collected by the commonwealth under the present sales tax, nor do we know of any valid reason for recalling the bill to change the present amendments or to insert new ones," Bloom said.

The governor has been advised privately to veto the measure which he has described as "smacking of greed and tax-dodging." One of those pushing for a veto is Sen. John H. Dent, Senate Democratic floor leader.

14,000 Made Idle By Rubber Strike

CINCINNATI (AP)—Picket lines went up around B. F. Goodrich Co. rubber plants Monday after time ran out on negotiations here for a new contract.

The strike affects about 14,000 United Rubber Workers in nine Goodrich plants.

Company and union negotiators worked through to just before the midnight strike deadline last night before quitting the sessions without agreement.

Another meeting was scheduled for late today but scant hope was held out for an early settlement of the dispute.

Neither company nor union representatives would give an inkling of what these issues are.

Goodrich plants involved include those at Oaks, Pa., and Riverside, N. J.

Waterfront Blaze Causes Heavy Loss

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Fire burned out the upper floors of a warehouse on the waterfront on Sunday with reported heavy damage to foodstuffs and paper and other merchandise as well as to the building itself. Pending a checkup later today, occupants said they would not estimate the damage in dollars.

About 200 men fought the flames which at their peak were seen for many miles. An early morning passerby gave the alarm. Fire chief George Hink said the blaze apparently started on the second floor of the five-story building, but that the exact cause had not been determined. Although the lower floors were spared the ravages of fire, extensive damage from smoke and water was reported.

The high man wins the election. There will be no runoff.

Democrats now control the Senate 49-47. If Texans elect a Republican, the GOP could, with his vote and that of Vice President Richard Nixon, reorganize the Senate.

UNDERWORLD LAIRS COMBED FOR SLAYERS

CHICAGO (AP)—Police combed the lairs of the underworld today for a clue to the slayers of former banker Leon Marcus.

High on the list of those sought was the backing of the state Republican organization.

Ralph Yarborough, 53, Austin attorney, liberal Democrat and staunch advocate of party loyalty, who made three unsuccessful campaigns for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. He is generally regarded to have the support of labor.

State Agriculture Commissioner John White, 32, Wichita Falls, also a staunch party loyalist and a vigorous critic of Republican farm policies.

Republicans are staking their hopes of a victory by Hutcheson on the hope that the Democratic vote will be divided among the many candidates. Although Herbert J. Antonie Sr., Bastrop real estate operator, entered the race as a Republican, he is now widely known and has not campaigned extensively.

for questioning is Sam (Mooney) Giancana, crime syndicate figure to whom Marcus was known to have loaned $150,000. A note found on the body of Marcus attested to this.

Marcus, 61, who was under indictment as an aftermath of the $24-million-dollar Hodge state fund scandal, was shot to death Sunday night and his body tossed into a vacant lot on the South Side.

Over $300,000 On Body

On his body police found more than $300,000 in cash and checks and a copy of a receipt for $100,000 paid by Giancana. Cash in the dead man's pockets totaled more than $1,600.

Presence of the hoard of cash caused police to discard robbery as a motive.

Investigators were more inclined to the belief that solution of the killing would be found in Marcus' devious financial dealings, which they said included backing gamblers and hoodlums.

Had Paid $100,000

The loan to Giancana, regarded by police as one of the top men of the Chicago area crime syndicate, was recorded on a receipt found in Marcus' pocket. Dated Feb. 1, 1955, it stated that Giancana had paid $100,000 "to apply on mortgage in the amount of $150,000 on the property located at 5400 N. River Road known as River Road Motel."

Investigators said the motel formerly was the syndicate's biggest house of prostitution. It was closed three years ago after a blaze of newspaper publicity and later was converted into a motel.

Farmer At Turnpike Deadend Is Appealing To 2 States For Help

BRAMAN, Okla. (AP)—Amos Switzer, who's literally at the end of the road, has appealed to two states for help—so far without success.

He's sick and tired of entertaining uninvited guests on his farm. The south end of the Kansas Turnpike, opened last fall, stops at the Oklahoma-Kansas border, adjacent to the Switzer farm. Oklahoma has never begun work on its part of the turnpike.

Ignore Signs

There are secondary roads going off at angles from the turnpike to connect with U. S. 177 six miles to the south, but fast-driving motorists have continually ignored warning signs and ended up on Switzer's farm.

"Those cars, the majority of them from states other than Oklahoma and Kansas, kept knocking over the fence at the end of the turnpike."

Sold His Cattle

"I moved it back 50 feet . . . merly was the syndicate's biggest house of prostitution. It was closed three years ago after a blaze of newspaper publicity and later was converted into a motel.

and still they knock it down. "I had some cattle and every time the fence got knocked down they got loose. When they got loose they would get on the turnpike or the other road and I was liable for them. So I finally sold them."

"You know we are right neighbors out here. My wife and myself were married in 1927 and set up housekeeping right here and it's been only the last four months we have had to lock our doors."

Gets Sympathy

"These poor people run off the end of the turnpike and come down here for help. Usually that means a long-distance call to Blackwell, Okla., or Wellington, Kan., for a wrecker or an ambulance — or both — and the highway patrol."

"When we are home that's fine. But when we started to get telephone bills with a lot of long-distance calls on them, we had to start looking up when we left."

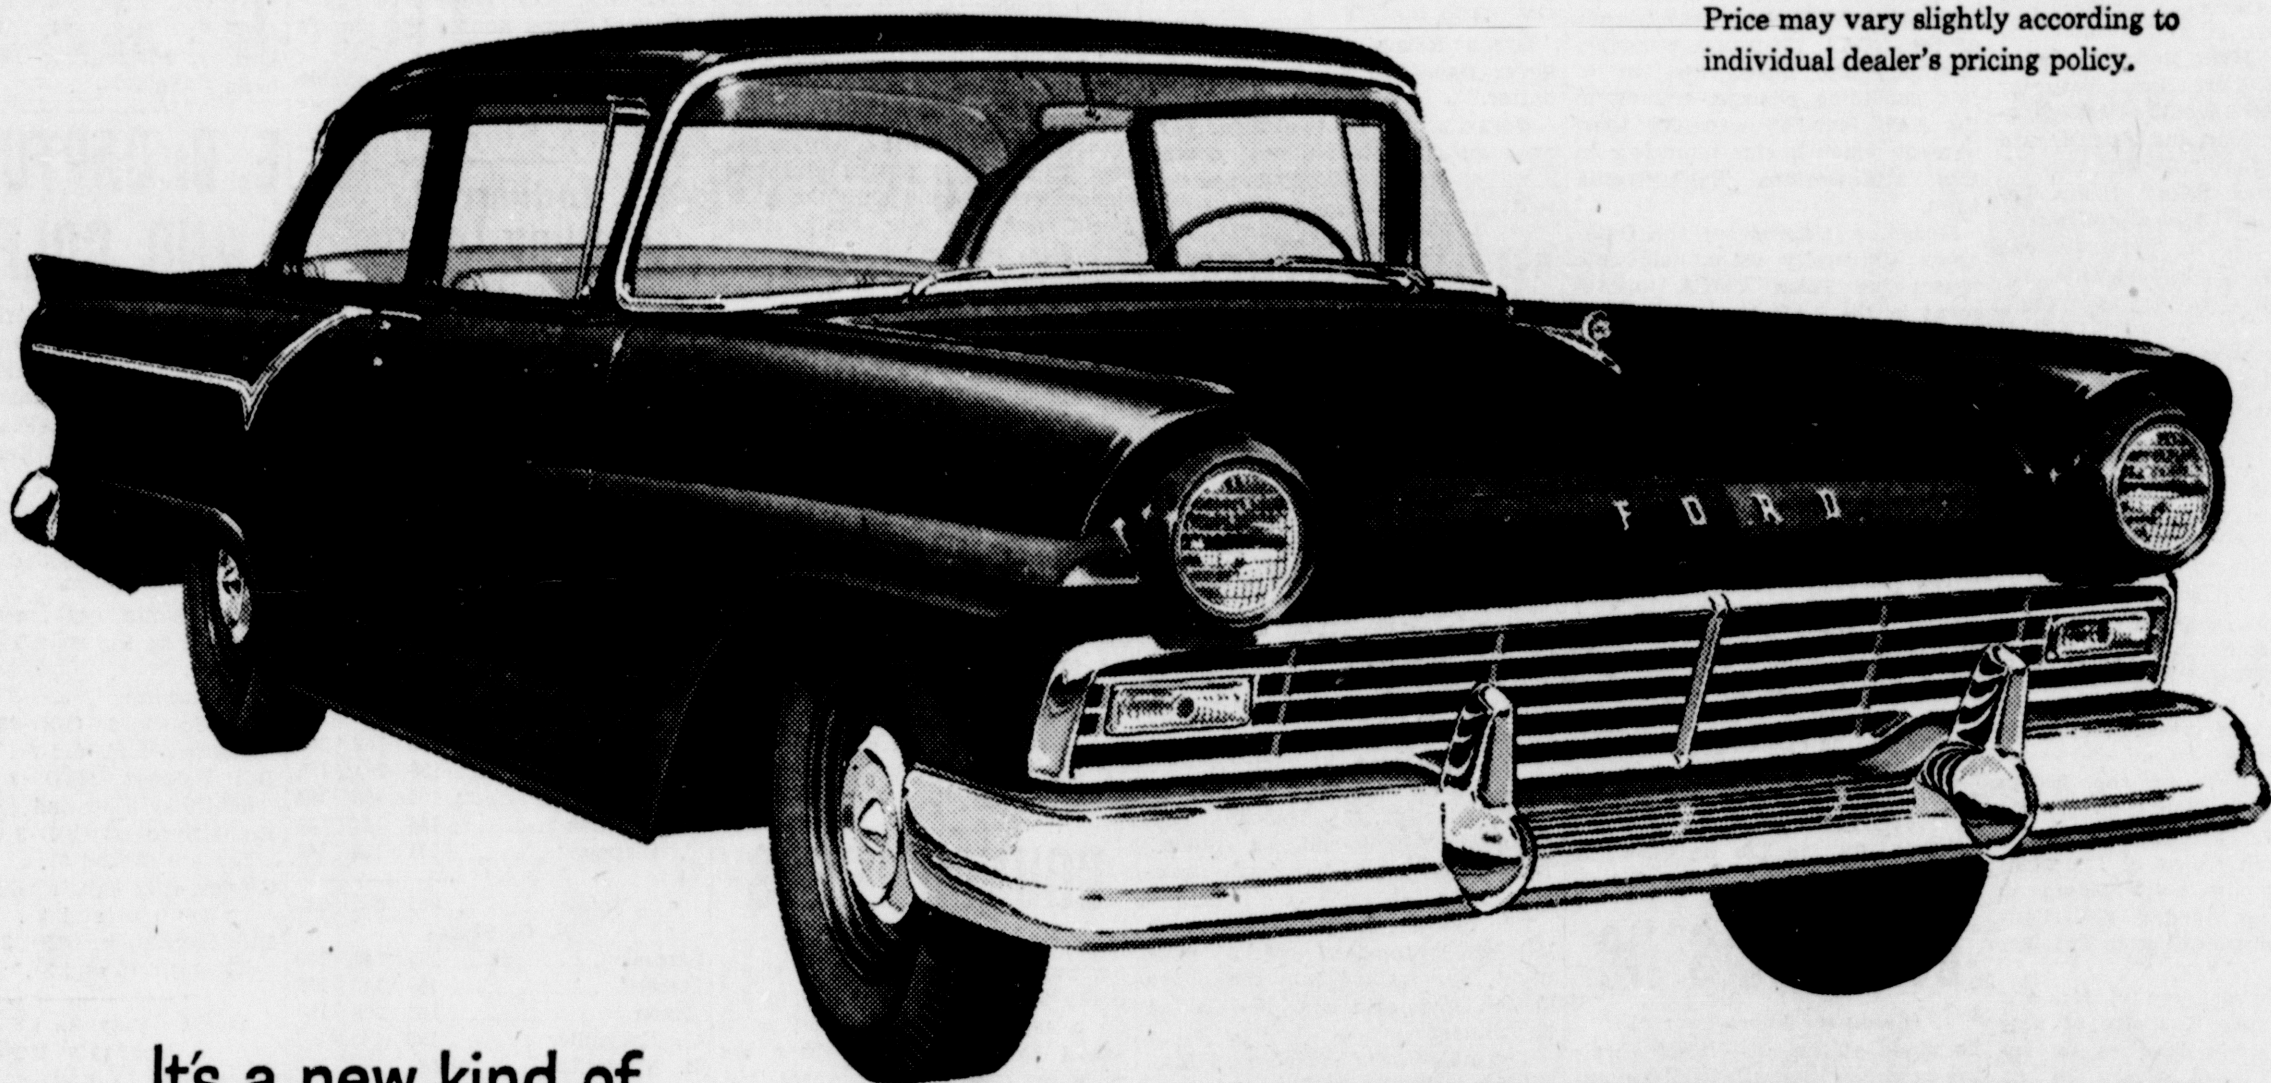

Switzer has appealed both to Kansas and Oklahoma for help. Both are sympathetic but Kansas says all it can do is put up signs and Oklahoma says it is a problem for Kansas.

SENATE PROBE SPURS DEMAND FOR MORE LAWS TO GUARD LABOR

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate investigation of alleged flinching by Teamsters Union officials is spurring demands that Congress act to safeguard the rights of the laboring man.

Such demands were voiced over the weekend by Republican and Democratic senators, by Secretary of Labor Mitchell and by Americans for Democratic Action.

Proposals ranged from greater protection of "democratic processes" in unions to closer policing of union funds.

May Be Building Fire
There was some talk that the Senate probe might build a fire under a drive for enactment of more state "right-to-work" laws, which outlaw the union shop. Eighteen states already have them. The possibility was raised too of a federal "right-to-work" law.

Debate arose over whether the disclosures would set back the labor movement. Senators Ives (R-NY) and Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said they feared this would happen. Mitchell disputed this view.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, said yesterday, "I wouldn't, as a result of these hearings, simply undertake to pass laws of reprisal, laws of punishment."

Search For Evidence
The committee, in recess for a few weeks, has undertaken a search for evidence of racketeering in both labor and management. So far, it has concentrated on activities of certain leaders of the giant Teamsters Union.

It has heard testimony that union funds were used to finance real estate investments and to pay for racing stables, lavish homes and other personal outlays of these officials.

McClellan said the hearings so far "clearly" indicate to him that "there should be federal legislation to insure the democratic processes in unions" and to insure "the security of their funds so they cannot be dissipated or misappropriated or stolen or diverted to any other purpose than union purposes."

Secretary Mitchell said on a television program an administration bill to allow publication of union financial reports will be pressed again this year. He said it "lay dormant" in Congress last year.

Mitchell Concerned
The ADA, which met here over the weekend in its 10th anniversary convention, adopted a resolution urging a bill to require full public disclosure of all transactions involving union welfare and pension funds. The organization, which labels itself nonpartisan and "liberal," also called for "forthright enforcement of laws punishing embezzlement of union funds."

Both Mitchell and Ives indicated concern that the rackets probe disclosures might give impetus to state "right-to-work" laws. Such laws bar the union shop, under which a worker must join a union within a certain time after he goes on the job.

Mitchell restated his opposition to such laws, saying he believes employers and unions should have the right to bargain for some form of "union security."

AGENCY DATA OPEN TO PUBLIC

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader has ordered agencies under the state government under his control to make public all personnel changes.

And at the same time he directed administrative departments, independent boards and commissions and other agencies under his office to give the public full salary information on these employees.

The order was transmitted Wednesday under Leader's signature. "Your strict adherence to this policy will be expected," he told department heads.

About two months ago, at his weekly news conference, Leader was told that some government agencies were "refusing to make public salary information on new employees. At that time he advised newsmen unable to obtain personnel and salary information to call him directly."

Last week's directive stated that, "effective immediately, please make all personnel changes public."

It added that information to be given the press and public was to include hirings, dismissals, promotions and transfers.

"In addition," it said, "all salary information should be released

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any chance of civil rights legislation passing Congress this year? Don't bet on it. Some people are optimistic. But Southerners, as usual, are against new civil rights laws.

The House Judiciary Committee has approved a bill — essentially the kind asked by President Eisenhower — but the full House hasn't voted on it yet. The Rules Committee still must clear it.

It's almost certain to pass the House, where debate is limited. The Senate Judiciary Committee hasn't approved any bills yet. If it does, the measure will probably be similar to the House bill.

But then, when it comes before the full Senate where debate is unlimited, it faces a Southern filibuster which, for generations, has been able to block civil rights legislation.

6-Man Commission

This describes the House bill: 1. It would authorize Eisenhower to create a six-man commission to study the whole field of civil rights for two years and then make recommendations. The commission could subpoena witnesses and records.

This authority means power: the commission could force witnesses to testify or, if they refuse, face a fine and jail sentence in federal court.

If Eisenhower created such a commission on his own it would lack subpoena power and therefore be handicapped from the start. It would have to depend on hostile witnesses for voluntary cooperation.

Subpoena Power

Southerners argue against the proposed subpoena power.

2. At present the Justice Department has a civil rights section tucked away in its Criminal Division. The House bill would create both a new Civil Rights Division and a new assistant attorney general to run it.

Not much argument on that one.

3. At present in the South if someone — say a registrar of voters — interferes with a Negro's voting rights, the latter could ask a federal judge to issue an injunction to stop the interference.

If the registrar ignored the injunction, the Negro could go back and tell the judge the registrar was in contempt of court. If the judge acted then, the registrar would have to be given a trial by jury.

Injunction Procedure

The Eisenhower administration proposed — and the House bill provides for it — that in such a case of voting interference it would be the government which asked the judge for an injunction.

In short, the Negro wouldn't have to get a lawyer and go to simultaneously with the personnel change."

FOUR IN FAMILY ARE KILLED BY MISSOURI BOY

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—"How are they? Are they going to live?" Chief of Detectives Verne Starmer answered the telephone at the Ossie Woolridge home.

Woolridge, 57-year-old plumber and heating installer, was dead. So was Mrs. Woolridge, 45; DeLores, 11, youngest of their two daughters; and Paul, 6, youngest of their four sons. Doris, 12, was shot through the neck and side, critically wounded.

"You better give yourself up," Starmer told the voice on the phone—a "Mr. Smith." It was a young voice. Starmer recognized it despite the disguise.

So the police picked up 14-year-old Daniel Woolridge at a theater where remorse had overtaken him as he watched "The Wrong Man," an Alfred Hitchcock detective thriller.

Sobbing Boy Signs
Prosecutor Frank Connitt Jr. said the sobbing boy signed a statement saying he "suddenly went crazy."

A quiet Sunday dinner at the Woolridge home, after Sunday school at the Riverside Presbyterian Church, had erupted in a fuss between Daniel and his parents.

Daniel wanted to go for a ride. His father said it was too cold. Daniel stormed out of the house but returned in a few minutes. He asked his mother to give back the hunting knife she had taken away from him. She said she had thrown it away.

Got 22 Rifle
Daniel sat down for a moment. Then he got a pump action 22 rifle.

Woolridge was shot in the head while napping on a living room couch. Mrs. Woolridge ran in the court. The government would go to court. Then if the registrar ignored the injunction, the government, not the Negro, would notify the judge.

In this kind of case — where the government initiated the action — the registrar could be tried on contempt charges by the judge alone, not by a jury.

Southerners make their biggest protest over this, arguing the right of trial by jury for everyone facing a jail sentence.

Those pushing the bill don't budge under that argument. They contend there are already many laws on the books — for instance, in antitrust suits — where the attorney general initiates action for an injunction and contempt and the trial is by judge alone.

FAIRFIELD — Cub members of Pack No. 76, of Fairfield observed "Indian Night" Thursday evening in the social rooms of Wesley Chapel, Fountaindale. Guests present were the parents and friends of Cub members.

The meeting opened with the Cubmaster, Paul Crist, welcoming those present. A swimming course, which begins on April 12, was explained by Mr. Crist. He told of the merits in learning to swim and the badges which may be earned.

In keeping with the theme, "Indian Night," the Cub members were garbed in traditional costumes, wore war paint, beads, feathered head-dresses and carried war drums which they had made for the occasion. At the sound of drums, the Indians filed in and sat on the floor around a camp fire in front of a large Indian tepee. Den 2 was responsible for the campfire and the making of the tepee.

Mrs. Francis Schultz, den mother for Den No. 1, was in charge of the pantomime which portrayed "Peace Between the Reds and Whites." Cub Scouts Joseph Kane, Ronald Schultz, Philip Smith, Ronald Willet, Gregory Wortz and Den Chief Teddy Lowe were the participants.

Mrs. Betty Martin, den mother for Den 2, read the "Story of Six Arrows." Characterizations were played by Francis Bowling, Floyd Brown, Paul Dagenhart, Richard Gladhill, William Henry, Carroll Martin and Dennis Martin.

Mrs. Paul Crist, den mother for Den No. 3, presented a skit of sign language with Richard Crist, Roger Benner and Timmy Heare taking part. Den No. 4 with their den mother, Mrs. Cameron Gladhill directing, told of the different customs of Indian tribes they had studied.

Speakers in this were Maurice Brown, Donald Geesaman, Harvey Gladhill, Larry Hull, Gary Hull and Dale Geesaman.

"Six Little Indians and a Pale-face" was presented by Den No. 5 under the direction of Den Mother Mrs. Catherine Spence. Characters were portrayed by Ronald Miller, Michael Reindollar, Gary Spence, Thomas Kittinger, Ronald Myers, Alistair Healy, Robert Sanders and Den Chief, Thomas Schaible. The helicopter was developed by the British army for frontline duty.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Rackets Committee investigators looking into union activities in Scranton, Pa., and Philadelphia are "substantially ready" for public hearings, says committee chairman Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.).

McClellan said also Saturday that the committee, now in recess for about two weeks, has not set a date for resumption of hearings. Investigations in the Philadelphia and Scranton areas, he said, relate to the Teamsters Union but that more than just teamster affairs are involved.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader today urged Pennsylvania's delegation in Congress to work to restore an authorization of 250 million dollars for each of 1958 and 1959 for urban redevelopment.

The governor said that the suggestion of the administrator of housing and home finance to cut total new authorization for 1957 to 175 millions "would do great injury, if adopted, to the strenuous effort of Pennsylvania cities to clear their slums and blighted areas and replace them with modern developments."

ACTION ON LIBRARY BILL

The U. S. Congress Friday voted to sustain $5,000,000 for grants to the states under the Library Services Act program, John Knickerbocker, librarian at Gettysburg College, was notified Saturday. Knickerbocker has headed a local group seeking to secure such federal funds over the last several years and has also headed committees working toward obtaining the funds of the state and national librarians association. The house Friday defeated a motion to cut the appropriation to $3,000,000 96 to 74 in passing the bill which will aid libraries in rural areas.

JAMESTOWN, VA., OPENS 8-MONTH FETE MONDAY

JAMESTOWN, Va. (AP)—The state of Virginia opened an eight-month historical festival Monday on this tiny James River island where, 3½ centuries ago, the new world was born.

A nearly perfect replica of the first permanent settlement in the new world has been built.

Offshore lie duplicates of the three flaxen-sailed ships which, in 1607, brought the 105 colonists from England—the Susan Constant, the Godspeed and the Discovery.

Fort Rebuilt
There are duplicates too of the palisaded fort built by the settlers for protection from the Indians; of Powhatan's lodge, home of the famed Indian chief; and of the glasshouse, where the colonists manufactured glass.

Real Indians in authentic costumes will staff Powhatan's lodge. The festival opens officially with a brief address by Virginia Gov. Thomas B. Stanley at the "Court of Welcome" on Glasshouse Point. Participating also are Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks and Viscount Hailsham, British minister of education and leader of a British good will mission to the festival.

Virginia hopes that by the end of the year, more than three million visitors will tour the festival park. Among expected guests: Queen Elizabeth II of Great Britain and President Eisenhower.

Funeral services for James H. Boyle, 85, who died last Friday at his home, Fairfield R. 2, were held Monday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg, with the Rev. John R. ## BOX CARS TO BE CHECKED ON BY ELECTRONICS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Southern Pacific and Stanford Research Institute applied their best brains for three years to the problem of the empty box car, an ungainly but highly expensive waif in the transportation world.

Now they think they have it licked.

Starting July 1, Southern Pacific expects to put in full operation a new electronic computer system to keep an up-to-the-minute check on where its empty box cars are, and where they are needed, said James W. Corbett, SP operating vice president.

Empty-Car Miles Costly

"The surprising thing is that we don't have this kind of information," said L. E. Hoyt, assistant to the SP's general manager.

"Nor does any railroad in the country, so far as we can develop. Hoyt estimated SP's ownership costs on its average of 36,000 box cars in 1955 at 36 million dollars, computed at $2.75 a day.

He said SP's out-of-pocket costs for 250 million empty car-miles in 1955 amounted to 15 million dollars, conservatively computed at 6 cents a mile.

Cutting down the time box cars are empty and idle, Hoyt said, will chop "into staggering inventory costs" and "premium storage on extremely expensive track."

To Get Forecast

Hoyt joined L. J. Lyons, SP's superintendent of freight car service, and C. J. Feeney, industrial operations research manager at Stanford Research Institute, in reporting on SP's new car control plan before the Railway Systems and Procedures Assn. in Chicago today.

About 200,000 punched cars will be fed each week into an IBM data-processing machine in San Francisco. At the end of each week there will be a forecast of future car movement based on empty cars on hand in each of SP's 11 divisions along 8,000 miles of track between Portland, Ore., Los Angeles, and El Paso, Tex.

Until now railroads have had to depend on men with the "right feel."

A good car distributor, Lyons said, was made by years of experience giving him "the right feel of the situation on what places really need help and which ones are just shouting and can really help themselves."

Michigan State's basketball team won 16 in a row in 1930-31 and 1931-32 seasons, a school record. Featherweight Gil Cadillac never boxed as an amateur.

Three Mt. St. Mary's College students from Emmitsburg were hurt, one fatally, when this car in which they were riding struck an embankment at the intersection of the Tract Rd. and the Emmitsburg-Waynesboro Rd., west of Emmitsburg early Sunday morning. Edward Galen, 20, died Monday afternoon in the Warner Hospital where his companion, John Daly, also 20, remains in a critical condition. Richard D. Gardner, 20, a Mount Junior, driver of the car, escaped serious injuries. (Ziegler Studio photo)

PRIVATE PLANE IS MISSING ON NIGHT FLIGHT

SELENSGROVE, Pa. (AP) — A four-seater private airplane, turned back by bad weather on a night flight from Newark, N.J., to Erie, Pa., was presumed down today in Central Pennsylvania.

The Civil Air Patrol and State Police planned a search in a wide area near Selensgrove, much of it in the foothills of the Blue Mountains.

It was not known how many persons were aboard. The craft was last contacted at 8:12 p.m. last night. The Selensgrove Communications Center of the Civil Aeronautics Administration said the plane's fuel would have run out at 11:17 p.m.

The pilot, identified as John Zysk, of Erie, left Newark Airport at 8:42 p.m. He was due at Erie at 9:27 p.m.

Reversing Course

In his last radio message, the pilot asked for CAA permission to change from a visual to an instrument flight plan. He said he was reversing course and heading for the Allentown - Bethlehem - Easton Airport in Eastern Pennsylvania because of heavy rains.

It was possible that he ran into icing conditions. He reported his altitude at 4,000 feet, but the CAA

FIND BODY OF TORTURED BOY

OMAHA (AP) — A teen-age boy's mutilated body was tossed on a country road near here early today and sheriff's deputies said the youth apparently was tortured before he was slain.

His right hand had been burned off, apparently with an acetylene torch, Coroner George Sullivan said.

The victim was identified as Donald Marfisi, 16, of Omaha. Officers said the boy had a minor police record.

The body was found near a hospital about 10 miles west of Omaha.

Officers said there was no immediate explanation of where or why the youth was tortured and killed.

Marfisi's feet also had been burned.

His body was clad in blue jeans, a yellow T-shirt and a lightweight undershirt.

declined to say whether he had asked for a lower flight level.

The request for a change in flight plan was relayed to the CAA's headquarters in New York for approval.

"We were unable to contact the plane after we got permission," a CAA spokesman said. He added this was about two minutes after receiving Zysk's request.

The plane, a Beechcraft Bonanza, was owned by Erie Aviation, Ind., an aircraft rental firm. Zysk

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Richard Staib, 16, a high school junior, was killed last night in an automobile crash on the outskirts of Williamsport.

Staib was a passenger in a car driven by Gerald R. Newman, 16, which skidded in the rain and hit a tree. Newman was taken to a hospital with a dislocated shoulder.

STYLED TO SMART EASTERN TASTES

"That proves it to me... the J-2 Rocket is like two engines in one!"

HE: Right! This J-2 Rocket* is really a new driving experience!

FRIEND: Well, I've handled a Rocket Engine before, but nothing like this. They've always had pep, but this one's got that extra pep when you need it!

HE: Don't forget economy.

FRIEND: Yes, but you can't feel economy.

HE: Feels pretty good to the pocketbook.

FRIEND: Right! But it beats me how you get economy with a big car like Olds.

HE: Easy. For cruising around, you just use one dual-barrel carburetor.

FRIEND: Bet that waters down your performance some.

HE: Not a bit. I've got regular Rocket performance right through the economy range. And believe me, that's plenty. But if you need more power...

FRIEND: Then what?

HE: Go to Stage Two. You just saw what that does. Give it three-quarters throttle and you've got three dual carburetors dishing up more power and torque.

FRIEND: Tell you the truth, I've always liked an Olds. Thought we might get one ourselves some day.

HE: Checked the price lately? You'd be surprised how easy it is to own.

*277-h.p. Rocket T-400 Engine standard on all models. J-2 Rocket Engine, with 300 h.p., and special Rocket Engine, with up to 312 h.p., available at extra cost.

PROBE CRASH FATAL TO SIX

DICKSON, Tenn. (AP)—Investigators from nearby Sewart Air Force Base are pouring over scattered wreckage of a Memphis-bound B25 from Langley Field, Va., which crashed near this middle Tennessee town yesterday. Six persons were killed. Four survived.

Late last night Sewart probes said there was no clue as to why the reamed World War II bomber suddenly went out of control and plunged from about 8,000 feet.

The four survivors, three of them civilians, bailed out. The plane was en route to Memphis, where its occupants were to take part in a supply conference opening today.

Dr. William Jackson, to whose clinic the four survivors were admitted, said accounts he obtained indicated the tail section probably was blown off and that the four men hurried from the plane "pulled their rip cords automatically."

CALLS SCHOOL FUND, DISASTER

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Dr. Eric A. Walker, president of Pennsylvania State University, says Gov. Leader's proposed appropriations for the university for the 1957-58 biennium is "a disaster budget."

Walker said the governor's plan to increase the school's appropriation by 10 per cent "would permit us barely to maintain our present programs."

Speaking at a fund drive before the Pittsburgh district alumni, Walker said the university had asked for an increase of 23 per cent or $5,750,000.

He said the amount is needed for salary increases, more faculty members, an expected increased enrollment and other costs.

Walker added that in 1955 Pennsylvania ranked third from the bottom among the 48 states in money spent for higher education.

"Twenty-two of the states spent more than three times as much per person for higher education as did Pennsylvania," Walker said. "And 39 states spent more than twice as much per person."

READY TO PROBE COMMUTATIONS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The head of a legislative committee probing the State Pardons Board said today that "everything was ready" for the committee to look into the death sentence commutations given last year to three Bucks County slayers.

"We have received replies from several of the witnesses we invited to appear before the committee on the Darcey case and I expect we will start considering it before the week is out," said Rep. Edwin W. Tompkins (R-Camden).

Tompkins' statement, made as the six-member committee recessed yesterday, referred to the commutations granted to Darcy, Harold Foster and Harry Zietz, three Philadelphia men sentenced to death in the slaying of a bystander after a Bucks County tavern holdup.

Gov. Leader commuted their sentences to life imprisonment on the unanimous recommendation of the board.

It was the commutations which helped trigger the board probe, which will be resumed at public hearings tomorrow.

MACING TRIAL STARTS MAY 6

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Four former Republican state officials are scheduled to go on trial May 6 on charges of forcing state employees to contribute money to political campaign funds.

Dist. Edward C. Boyle of Allegheny County set the new trial date yesterday after the case had been postponed a number of times.

Boyle also announced that Asst. Dist. Atty. Sidney A. Sanes has been assigned to handle prosecution of the case.

The four are among 15 former Republican officials or state employees in the Fine administration who have been indicted on the macing charges.

The four slated to go on trial are:

Artemas C. Leslie, former state insurance commissioner; Frederick P. Hare Jr., administrative assistant to Fine; Fred M. Campbell, a former state insurance investigator; and George A. Nally, who was comptroller of the State Revenue Dept.

MAKE NEW MOVE TO LIFT TANKER

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Salvage crews today planned an attempt to remove the bulky bridge of the sunken Navy-owned tanker, Mission San Francisco, from the bottom of the Delaware River.

A spokesman for Merritt, Chapman and Scott said a huge derrick with a lifting capacity of 250 tons would make the attempt.

The bridge, which weighs an estimated 175 tons, may contain the bodies of 8 men who are believed to have perished in the explosion which followed a collision March 7 with the Liberian freighter, Elma II. One body was removed some time ago and another, still unidentified, was brought up yesterday.

Most of the 10 missing men were believed to be on the bridge when the empty tanker's fumes were ignited by the crash and tore the vessel apart midships.

EGYPT TO HELP U.N. KEEP ARABS OUT OF STRIP

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld says Egypt has agreed to help the U. N. Emergency Force prevent Arab infiltration from the Gaza Strip into Israel.

Hammarskjöld said he received this promise after he notified Cairo that the U. N. Advisory Committee on UNEF hoped Egypt would cooperate in stopping raids into Israel. The Egyptian reply said:

"1. Egypt is making known effectively to the refugees and other inhabitants of the strip that it is Egyptian policy to prevent infiltration across the demarcation line, and this will be re-emphasized from time to time as necessary."

"2. The Egyptian regulations against infiltration, which include penalties, are being again put into force. The role of UNEF in assisting in the prevention of infiltration will be made clearly known to the population of the Gaza Strip by appropriate authorities."

Egyptian authorities, meanwhile, protested to the U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission that Israeli forces crossed the frontier south of Gaza March 31, fired on Arabs and stole 86 sheep. No casualties were reported.

Pennsy Guard To Camp Aug. 3 to 17

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP)—The 2nd Army announced yesterday the 28th Division Pennsylvania National Guard will encamp at Indian-town Gap, Pa., Aug. 3-17 this year.

Some 55,000 National Guardsmen in the 2nd Army area will take part in summer field encampments this year, the Army headquarters announced, with emphasis this year on self support.

Units will do their own cooking, haul their rations, operate telephones and service their own equipment and vehicles, the announcement stated.

Major training sites will be at Indian-town Gap, where 23,600 men are expected; Camp Breckenridge, Ky., 12,200; Ft. Knox, 7,400; Ft. Miles, Del., 6,200 and Camp Perry, Ohio, 5,300.

2 DEMOCRATS TAKE GOP JOBS IN MICHIGAN

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan Democrats, in a campaign led by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, seized the last two Republican-held outposts in the state government's executive branch yesterday and shoved party influence in the state to an all-time high.

Their big prizes were the offices of state highway commissioner and state superintendent of public instruction, both being vacated July 1 by retirement of Republican incumbents.

John C. Mackie, 35, Flint surveyor, captured the highway commissioner's post, and Lynn M. Bartlett, 52, assistant superintendent of Grosse Pointe schools, won the education job.

Win 5 Places
Mackie defeated George M. Foster, chief deputy highway commissioner, 479,714 to 436,072, with 4,296 precincts of 5,181 reporting.

Bartlett won over Edgar L. Harden, president of Northern Michigan College at Marquette, 470,816 to 410,571, with 4,280 precincts reporting.

Aided by top-heavy pluralities in Detroit and Wayne County, Democratic candidates apparently won all five places at stake in partisan balloting on three statewide boards controlling major higher education institutions.

In nonpartisan voting, three Democratic nominees, two of them incumbents, won contests with Republican nominees to continue a 5-3 Democratic-Republican ratio on the State Supreme Court.

THEY HAVE EXPERIENCE
BALTIMORE — Bold Ruler, favorite for the $100,000 Preakness on May 18 at Pimlico, is only three years old, but his jockey, Eddie Arcaro, is 41, and his trainer, Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, is 82.

The U. S. Military Air Transport Service carries more freight than the combined cargo of the five largest private airlines in the U. S.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—The best way for a newsman to be sure he knows what Secretary of State Dulles means to say is to get it in writing.

Dulles' stenographers take down every word he says at a news conference, type it, and give him a copy. He then edits and changes his words to suit himself.

Thus newsmen who heard him say one thing sometimes read, in the transcript of his remarks, that he said something else. This happened again at Tuesday's conference.

He told newsmen Dag Hammarskjöld, United Nations secretary general, had made substantial progress in his talks with Egyptian President Nasser.

"Some Progress"

For some reason Dulles had second thoughts and decided to soften the progress angle. In the transcript he changed substantial progress to "some progress."

This practice brought him into stiff argument with newsmen last fall when, at his Oct. 2, 1956, news conference, he was asked about a reported split between the United States and its British and French allies.

He said "there is some difference." This language put the difference in the present tense, giving it the appearance of something still going on.

But he edited to put the difference in the past tense by knocking out the verb "is" and saying "there has been some difference."

"Fundamental Things"

He also spoke of some differences on "fundamental things" but in the transcript changed this to have him saying "our approach is not always identical."

At his next conference, Oct. 16, newsmen objected to this editing job, asked him to let the transcript quote him on the language he had actually used.

He said: "No . . . I must reserve the right in case I make a blunder inadvertently which does damage to international relations to correct those blunders. . . ."

Reporters who get exclusive interviews with Dulles — such as two reporters from Time and Life magazines have had in the past 16 months — might have less worry about corrections later if they had Dulles read and correct their copy before they publish it.

Article Stirs Row

In January 1956, Life magazine carried a piece on Dulles by Time's Washington bureau chief, James Shepley. It was based on a personal interview with Dulles and caused a storm in the capital.

Shepley quoted Dulles as saying, "The ability to get to the verge of war without getting into the war is the necessary art." This statement, now famous, became known among Dulles' critics as the "art of brinkmanship."

Did Dulles really say what Shepley said he did? Dulles was asked at a news conference. He didn't deny it, exactly. He said the quotation was "substantially" accurate but "I would never myself have expressed myself in quite that way for publication."

Dulles also explained he had not reviewed this highly laudatory article by Shepley.

Writes Biography

Now another Time man — its diplomatic reporter, John Robinson (Jack) Beal — has written a whole biography on Dulles, also highly laudatory.

Although the book was not published until Wednesday other reporters got advance copies of it and at Tuesday's news conference asked Dulles about two Beal statements which raised eyebrows in Washington, particularly in Congress.

Beal, who had personal interviews with Dulles, said the secretary's withdrawal last year of aid intended to expose Russia—which had talked of aid to Egypt and was now free to make good — as a phony.

Beal also said President Eisenhower had sent Nationalist China's President Chiang Kai-shek a "secret, personal letter . . . satisfying him that the United States would help defend" the islands of Quemoy and Matsu off the Red China coast.

Dulles threw down both statements. He said his withdrawal of aid for Egypt was not an attempt to force a Middle East showdown with Russia, and he said this country had made no flat commitments to defend Quemoy and Matsu.

KILL MAN WHO KILLED YANKS

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The Iranian tribesmen had killed the slayer of Mrs. Anita Carroll in a two-hour gunfight outside a village in southeastern Iran.

A military spokesman said tribesmen, armed by the government to track down the slayers of Mrs. Carroll, her husband and another American, had gunned down Ghaderdad, "reportedly the assistant" of fugitive bandit chief Dadshah.

The announcement said tribesmen spotted Ghaderdad while he was trying to enter Benet village to get food and water for the other members of the gang.

The spokesman said Ghaderdad was the bandit who slew Mrs. Carroll after the other Americans and two Iranians with them were killed in an ambush March 24.

Dartmouth's varsity crew observes its 100th anniversary this year.

THE BOY WHO LOST HIS LAUGH
By FLOYD STARR
Founder and Director of Starr Commonwealth for Boys, Albion, Mich.

"Please do me a favor," the judge said over the telephone, "and with no questions asked."

I had known Judge Harmon for years; several boys from his central Michigan county had come to Starr Commonwealth for guidance.

I asked, "What's the favor, Judge?"

"I have a boy I want you to take," he said.

"Tell me about him."

"No questions, remember?" he said. "I want you to accept him as a personal favor to me."

Floyd Starr

A Sullen Face

The sight of Roy startled me. He was 13, large for his age, and on his sullen face was a blank expression that made me wonder if he were well. He was petulant and somber, as if he were waiting for a whipping he felt he deserved.

Trying my best, I could find nothing attractive in him, but a life of working with boys had taught me that a child needs love most when he is most unlovable. Walking to my car, he looked at me with a snarl.

I said to myself: "This is going to be a rough one."

But I had known many rough ones. In 42 years, some 3,700 boys had passed through Starr Commonwealth.

Voluntarily

All of them, had come voluntarily—that was the rule; but I knew many of them had merely chosen what seemed the lesser evil between our school and a reformatory. Young as they were, many had become shrewd and callous, their love-starved hearts locked behind a veneer of resentment.

This I recognized in Roy, though I knew nothing more about him. He sat silently in the car as we entered the campus, his eyes straight ahead.

To give Roy a chance to become adjusted to his new surroundings, I left him alone for a few weeks. Reports came back to me. Roy was in constant trouble. He refused to study or do his chores. He argued with his house-mother and battled with his house-mates. Maliciously, he damaged property of the school and of the other boys.

From Large Family

Knowing so little about Roy, I didn't know where to begin with him. All I discovered was that he came from a large, poor family, that he had been indifferent at school, that being last in everything he lost faith in himself.

One Sunday, during my weekly talks to the boys at chapel services, I discussed faith: faith in played, in which I chose a letter of the alphabet and then picked boys to name items, beginning with that letter, for which they were grateful. I called on Roy, but God, in prayer, in one's self. But Roy remained sullen.

We had a chapel game we as always, he hung his head and said nothing.

Doing Chores

Early the next morning, I went to Roy's dormitory. The boys were busy at their chores, but Roy huddled alone in a corner.

I opened the door to the basement and said, "These stairs could use a good scrubbing. Roy, how about doing this job for me?"

I returned two hours later and discovered that Roy had washed the stairs with muddy water. They were a mess. This was his way of showing me that he would not conform.

I decided that if he wanted to play tricks, I would play them too. I got fresh water and soap and scrubbed the steps until they glistened. Then I told the house-mother, "Don't tell anyone that I did this. I'll be back after school."

A Puzzled Boy

When I returned the boys were preparing for dinner. I opened the basement door and said, "Excellent. These stairs look beautiful. Thanks a lot, Roy."

Puzzlement creased Roy's face. He glanced at the stairs, then at me, then the others.

Several days later, I again asked Roy to scrub the stairs. Again he washed them with mud. Again I cleaned them myself, and returned after school to tell Roy what a good job he had done.

Every morning for two weeks I scrubbed those stairs. Roy's bewilderment grew.

I sensed the change in Roy. He bit his lip guiltily each time I praised him.

On Saturday morning, after again assigning Roy to the job, I went back to the building to do it myself when the boys were out at recreation. I opened the basement door and there was Roy, working away.

The highly-scrubbed steps shone.

Grateful For Love

We looked at each other with immediate understanding, then I nodded approvingly and went away.

Next morning in chapel after I finished my usual talk, I said, "This week let's take the letter 'L'—Roy, tell me something beginning with 'L' that you're grateful for."

He lowered his head; we all waited. Then he muttered a word. I had to lean forward to catch it.

He had said: "Love."

After chapel I saw Roy walking alone, and I joined him. We continued silently for several moments, then I asked, "What finally made you decide to do it?"

He knew what I meant. "The way I figured it," he said, "it had to be you cleaning the stairs. And all the time you were saying those nice things about me in front of the others, and working, too, to get money to take care of us all. So I made up my mind finally to try to earn what you were doing for me."

"This morning in chapel, Roy, you said you were grateful for love. Do you know what love is?"

"I think so," he said. "It's doing nice things for people."

For the next months, it was impossible to stop Roy from doing nice things. He welcomed his chores, then hunted for more; he was restless to please. He discovered that school could be fun. He found friends all around him, and he learned to laugh.

When I felt he was ready to return home, I made arrangements for him to go back to his family, continue in his present happy frame of mind as long as he earned love by loving others.

WHIZ KID, 10, WINS $128,000

NEW YORK (AP)—A 10-year-old scientific whiz kid from the Bronx moved closer Tuesday night to being the biggest money-winner of any contestant on a single television quiz show.

Robert Strom won $128,000 on CBS's The $64,000 Question. By so doing, he made himself eligible to reach the triple-$64,000 "plateau" of $192,000 by answering the additional questions — and ultimately go on for a maximum prize of $256,000.

A "plateau" in this sense, is a point at which the contestant's winnings are assured no matter what he does in subsequent questions. Young Strom reached the double-$64,000 plateau last night. Charles Van Doren, marathon contestant on NBC's "21," made $129,000 and holds the present record by a $1,000 edge.

Young Strom Tuesday night named the discoverers of two laws governing the behavior of gases—Robert Boyle of England and Blaise Pascal of France—for question 1. For Question 2 he described the spectral characteristics of what the astronomers call "A," "G," and "M" stars.

For Question 3, he went through involved mathematics to calculate the "impedance" in an electric circuit. Impedance is the total opposition to the flow of an alternating current.

Ford Foundation Appropriates $25 Millions For Large-Scale Program To Attract Teachers

NEW YORK, April 4 — An intensive, nationwide effort to combat the mounting shortage of teachers in the nation's colleges was inaugurated today with the announcement by The Ford Foundation of a $25 million appropriation for a large-scale extension and development of the National Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Program.

The Foundation's action will support a broad program to attract able college students into the academic profession and will provide graduate fellowships to potential college teachers at the rate of 1,000 a year for the next five years.

Individual awards, which will be applied to tuition and living expenses for the first year of graduate study, are expected to average $2,200 and will require approximately $11 million of the total appropriation. Another $10 million will go to universities for aid to graduate students beyond the first year. A nationwide recruiting program will absorb about $2.8 million, and administrative expenses over the five-year period are expected to be $1 million.

100 More Fellowships
Out of the total funds appropriated, $200,000 will be made available to the Association of American Universities and its affiliate, the Association of Graduate Schools, to provide for an immediate increase of 100 Woodrow Wilson fellowships for the fall of 1957 — a fifty per cent rise over the 200 awarded this spring. The $200,000 will be paid to the University of Michigan as fiscal agent. The present national headquarters of the organization are in Ann Arbor, Michigan.

To conduct the expanded recruitment and fellowship program planned for the next five years, the organization is being reconstituted as a nonprofit corporation. The independent governing board is to be made up of a combination of distinguished laymen and educators. Board members and executive officers will be announced later.

Expect Large Enrollment
"In the next fifteen years," Henry T. Heald, president of the Foundation, said today, "it is expected that we will be teaching twice as many college students as at present. Yet up to now college teaching is the one major field for which able college students have not been actively recruited. The program of the National Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Corporation provides a coordinated attempt to meet the serious shortage of qualified faculty members in our colleges and universities."

Spokesmen for several major national educational organizations, at a meeting in Washington, March 25, with Woodrow Wilson and Ford Foundation officials, expressed enthusiasm for the new program and gave assurance that their respective organizations would lend full support to the recruitment effort.

The recruitment program will be conducted largely through a corps of 100 or more faculty members, who will give approximately one-third of their time to stimulating faculty cooperation on approximately 1,000 college campuses. Four or five full-time regional field directors will assist in developing and coordinating the program. Nominations for Woodrow Wilson Fellowships will be made by local faculty members, and selection will be made by regional committees and a national committee made up of active university and college faculty members.

Fellowship recipients may, in

STATE SCHOOL REORGANIZATION BILL OFFERED

HARRISBURG (AP) — Legislation supporting a proposed reorganization of Pennsylvania's school administration was in the legislature today.

It was introduced in the Senate with bipartisan backing and was termed by Gov. Leader another step toward equalization of educational services.

The plan, submitted to Leader after approval by the State Council of Education in January, would substitute a minimum of 47 "intermediate school service areas" for the 67 county superintendencies now in existence.

The units would be based on population, both pupil and total, and area. The bill, introduced by Sens. Frank W. Ruth (D-Berk) and John Van Sant (R-Lehigh), leaves the determination of the new areas to the council of education.

Ask Careful Study
"I hope everyone interested in improving education will now study the bill carefully and form his own conclusions," Leader said in a statement.

"We want to equalize education for all Pennsylvania's children and this bill will help us do just that," general, attend the institutions of their choice and will be free to select their own fields of study. Awards formerly were made only in the humanities and social sciences. The new program includes the natural sciences and mathematics as well.

Honorable Mention
A list of honorable mentions will be available to all interested graduate schools, and it is expected that the program will supply quality candidates considerably beyond the number of Woodrow Wilson Fellows selected.

The $10 million allocated for assistance beyond the first year will be used for grants of $2,000 each to the university at which each Woodrow Wilson Fellow enrolls. Three-fourths of this amount must be used for financial aid to graduate students, particularly in their final year. The aid provided by this stipend is at the discretion of the university and it is not limited to Woodrow Wilson Fellowships. The remaining one-fourth may be used by the university for additional fellowships or for strengthening its graduate program generally.

It is a regrettable fact that rural children haven't always received the opportunities to which they are entitled despite the hard work of parents, educators and PTA groups.

The present plan resulted from a council survey made with a $50,000 appropriation from the 1955 legislature. Other school reorganization legislation failed to win approval in the last two sessions of the legislature.

Claims For Bill
Member districts would include all third and fourth class districts in the designated area. Second class districts created after the area is formed also would be included, as well as second class districts which choose to join.

The new areas would provide through cooperative planning services in fields such as administration, instruction and special education. They would permit better coordination of agricultural, home-making, trade and industrial activities, supporters of the plan contend.

Counties would have to meet three of five criteria to qualify to form a service area. Under the requirements 33 counties would be able to stand alone as an area while 14 other groups of two or three counties would be qualified for area designation.

The Criteria
The qualifying criteria: Minimum population of 60,000, minimum enrollment of 12,000, minimum of 400 professional employees, minimum market value of taxable property of 100 million dollars, and maximum area of 1,000 square miles.

For sparsely populated regions with fewer than 40 people per square mile these special criteria would be established:

Minimum of 1,000 square miles, minimum of 8,000 pupils, minimum population of 35,000, minimum of 335 professional employees, and minimum of 45 million dollars market valuation.

12 Combinations
Areas that would result from the specified criteria:

Standing alone — Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Berks, Bucks, Butler, Cambria, Carbon, Chester, Crawford, Dauphin, Delaware, Erie, Fayette, Greene, Indiana, Lackawanna, Lancaster, Lawrence, Lebanon, Lehigh, Luzerne, Lycoming, Mercer, Montgomery, Northampton, Schuylkill, Somerset, Venango, Washington, Westmoreland and York—32.

Combinations — Adams, Franklin and Fulton; Bedford and Blair; Bradford and Sullivan; Centre and Clinton; Clarion and Jefferson; Clearfield and Elk; Columbia and Montour; Cumberland and Perry; Huntingdon, Mifflin and Juniata; McKean, Potter and Cameron; Pike, Wayne and Monroe; Union, Snyder and Northumberland—12.

Under sparsity formula—Tioga, Warren and Forest; Susquehanna and Wyoming—3.

Prison "Talent" Is Saved For Show

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Magistrate Jack Robbins, had sent Willie Castle to the Broadmeadows Prison Farm to wait for a further hearing on a shoplifting charge. Yesterday the case was tried and Castle was found guilty. Castle said he was all set to do a song and dance number in the prison "foibles" at the farm and asked to be returned. The magistrate cooperated by giving Castle 60 days there.

The first recorded physician of history was Imhotep, who practiced medicine under Zoser, king of the Third Egyptian Dynasty, in the year 2900 B.C. Great medical progress has been made over the centuries. We are proud of our part in modern health service, and compounding and dispensing medication are our contribution to your good health.

Most People Don't Really Know Just Why They Smoke

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Do you know why you smoke?

The chances are you really don't know. That's one of the odd aspects of the current controversy over smoking.

Of the scores of reasons these are the ones given most often: conformity ("I smoke because most of the people I know do"); habit ("I just got started and I don't really want to quit"); release from nervous tension.

Women often take up smoking because they feel it makes them look sophisticated. Men often say they smoke because it gives them something to do with their hands.

Centuries Old Debate
The possibility of a connection between smoking and lung cancer, raised by recent statistical studies, is merely the latest issue in an argument over the medical effects of tobacco that has been raging for centuries. And the final word still is to be said.

When tobacco was first brought to Europe in the 16th century it was hailed as a miracle herb. The strange new world plant (cousin to the tomato, potato and eggplant) was used in the treatment of disease.

Only when the custom of smoking the weed became prevalent did the outcry against it arise. Blamed For Many Things

In the 18th century French doctors thought smoking caused gray hair, English doctors held it hastened aging, Irish doctors believed it caused kidney stones.

In various countries it also has been denounced as a cause of deafness, salivary gland disease, sterility, stunted growth and even tooth decay.

Many persons today, worried over the statistical evidence gathered against cigarettes, are less concerned with giving up the habit than they are in reducing the amount they smoke.

Many Antidotes
The antidote for overindulgence in smoking is almost as old as the use of tobacco itself. Indians cured themselves of tobacco sickness by chewing the leaves of the lobelia plant (sometimes called "Indian tobacco"), which is similar to actual tobacco but free of nicotine.

Modern science succeeded in isolating the curative ingredient, an alkaloid called lobeline sulfate, but found it had some bad side effects.

Two years ago Dr. W. G. Rapp and a colleague at Loyola University in Chicago found that a drug called bantron, which combines

DIES OF SHOCK WHILE STEALING ELECTRIC WIRE

OMAHA (AP)—Donald Marfisi, 17, Omaha, died of electric shock while cutting wire from power lines, police were told Tuesday night.

Det. Inspector Ernest Brown said Otto Glaser of Omaha related that Marfisi died during an attempted theft.

Marfisi worked for Glaser who is a junk dealer.

The story of the 52-year-old Glaser, as related to Brown, was: He and Marfisi were on a wire the lobeline sulfate with certain antacids, markedly reduced the craving for nicotine and had no bad side effects.

Excess Is Dangerous
Dr. Rapp said this drug "seems to have merit as a safe and effective aid to curbing smoking, especially if the subject has the desire to stop."

But it remains an individual decision whether the pleasures of smoking, taken in moderation, outweigh the possible perils, if the habit is abused.

There is no known substance, from water to cod liver oil, that won't damage your health if taken in sufficient excess.

stealing forway and Glaser sent the boy up a pole to cut some dead wire away.

On the pole, Donald reached for the wrong wire. It was a high tension 8,000 volt line.

Glaser, seeing the boy's mistake, shouted "Donnie, Donnie, don't do it."

Made Other Thefts
The warning was not in time. Donald's hand touched the wire. There was a bright flash. Then the boy's body tumbled to earth.

Panic stricken, Glaser loaded the body into his small truck. He sped to the Douglas County Home for the Aged. He thought it was a hospital. He dumped the body and a severed hand in the driveway and sped away.

Brown quoted Glaser as saying the pair went on "nine, ten or maybe 14 jobs."

Police at first, finding the severed hand, thought they might have a revenge slaying to solve.

Medical examination proved the boy died of electric shock and questioning of Glaser brought out the junk man's story.

Glaser was turned over to the Douglas County sheriff's office and was held without charge.

HARRISBURG (AP)—A bill to change the names of four interchanges on the Pennsylvania Turnpike came before the Senate Wednesday after gaining committee approval.

It would change the Blue Mountain interchange to Shippensburg-

Chambersburg, West Shore to Harrisburg West - York, Perry Highway to Warrendale-Ambridge and Quakertown to Quakertown-Pennsburg. The changes would be effective a year after signing of the act.

Wide Variety Of Frozen Food Is Available To Housewives

By CATHERINE B. LOVE

There's a big garden of foods for you at the frozen food counter of the grocery store. So big that some retailers have found their frozen food counter was too small the day after their new store had opened. We may look to the future as the "age of convenience." Thousands of homemakers cast their votes for frozen food as the most favorite convenience item. It means variety in meals, a time-saving in meal preparation, better nutrition for the family and the title of "perfect hostess" — ready for unexpected guests.

Frozen Garden Growth

Frozen food production has increased 4½ times the 1946 output. Frozen orange juice has accounted for more than half this growth. Since then frozen strawberries have also come into their own. On a nationwide basis we use as many frozen strawberries as we do fresh. Five or six years ago this wasn't true. The season for fresh berries lasts only a month or two, but frozen berries are available the year round. Also, frozen strawberries compare favorably price-wise with fresh, especially this year when so many were frozen.

Last year, two pounds of peas were packed for each of us to use in 1957, giving us more peas than any other frozen vegetable. Also, substantial quantities of lima beans, corn, spinach and green beans are available. In 1956 about 120,000,000 pounds of each of these vegetables were packed. Today we eat more frozen lima beans and corn than we do canned or fresh. Frozen vegetables are used in this order of importance: (1) peas, (2) potato products, (3) lima beans, (4) snap beans, (5) corn, (6) spinach, (7) broccoli.

Prepared frozen foods are now the fastest growing part of the industry. More than 200 of these items are now being marketed. Production in 1955 exceeded 500 million pounds, 60 per cent more than the 1954 total. Four items — French fried potatoes, poultry and meat pot pies, fish sticks, and dessert pies — together accounted for two-thirds of total output of these prepared foods.

Best Buys
Be on the lookout for bargains in frozen strawberries the next two months. There will be some specials in frozen orange juice. In the vegetable line, peas are the most plentiful, and stocks of corn, cauliflower, French fries and broccoli are running above average this time of year.

The fact that food is frozen solid isn't enough to insure good flavor. The temperature at which it is held makes a difference also in the vitamins retained.

The quality of frozen fruits and vegetables is determined by rapid freezing, low temperature storage, and top quality products at the time of processing. Storage temperatures should be at least 0 degrees F to insure the best possible flavor and food value. Research done at Pennsylvania State University shows that -20 degrees F is an even better storage temperature, but this is not economical and practical with existing types of refrigeration facilities.

Frozen Garden — Thawed!
What's happened to the nutrients that used to be in the fresh peas or strawberries before they were frozen? According to researchers, a very high percentage, and in some cases practically all, of their initial nutrients have been preserved in the frozen package you buy. When kept under proper storage conditions, you can count on serving nutritious food every time you prepare a package of frozen food for your family.

You can help control the quality of the frozen food you prepare. To preserve nutrition plus flavor — use proper cooking techniques: 1. Defrost partially, and break apart such vegetables as asparagus, and cauliflower, before cooking — about two hours in the refrigerator. 2. Break peas, limas, green beans apart by hitting on a hard surface. Cube spinach. This prevents over portion from over-cooking. Bring about ¼ cup water to a boil, add the vegetables, cover with a tight fitting lid, and cook for as short a time as possible. Serve immediately. 3. For best flavor, serve frozen fruits partially thawed with a few ice crystals.

STORMS POUND MUCH OF NATION

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Stormy early spring weather, which struck devastating blows in the Southern Plains and sections of the Rockies, continued to harass broad areas in the eastern half of the nation today.

A storm centered in the middle Mississippi Valley spread violent weather from snow in the plains states, sleet and freezing rain in Illinois and Indiana, severe thunderstorms in Kentucky and Tennessee and rain as far west as the lower Great Lakes region and the Appalachians.

Tornado winds, with heavy thunderstorms, whipped sections of Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas and Kentucky during the night. A "small" tornado struck Nashville, Tenn., injuring four persons and damaging more than a score of buildings. Another small twister hit south of Bowling Green, Ky. Tornado winds lashed wide areas of rural western Kentucky. Several small buildings were reported destroyed in rural areas near Glen Allen, Miss., but no injuries were reported.

Snow continued in the hard hit northern and central plains states with falls ranging up to more than a foot at Philip, S. D., since yesterday noon.

Give Contract For Penn State Borings

HARRISBURG (AP)—The General State Authority yesterday awarded a $12,480 contract to Tinney Drilling Co., Grafton, W. Va., for making test borings at Pennsylvania State University.

The GSA said the drilling is preparatory to construction of a laboratory for agricultural and meat research, a military, air and naval science building, and a new building to adjoin the school's Home Economics South Building.

At the same time the authority awarded a $157,750 contract to Michael Electrical Contractors, of Bellefonte, for revamping the electrical system at Rockview State Penitentiary, Bellefonte.

MAYWOOD, N.J. (AP)—Carl Rombough, 49, was involved in an auto accident here and promptly proceeded to treat the victim. The victim was a tree. Rombough is a tree surgeon.

The bison, or buffalo herd, had been killed off in Canada to about 300 in 1900. Strict patrols of game wardens to stop illegal hunters has brought the herd back to about 15,000.

President Chides Reporters On Speed Trip To Gettysburg

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first question asked President Eisenhower at his press conference in Washington Wednesday was a request for comment on the fast trip to Gettysburg last Friday.

A reporter told him the trip got a lot of attention because news men trying to keep up with his car were flagged down for speeding.

With a slow smile, Eisenhower replied that he did not mind at all expressing his views on the subject.

For a good many years, he went on, he has used the back seat of his car to carry on conferences. He said that on the trip last Friday he was engaged in a conference. He made the journey with Col. Walter R. Tkach, assistant White House physician.

Because of that conference, Eisenhower said, he had no idea of his limousine's speed.

Will Not Speed
The driver was a Secret Service man.

Eisenhower said he now has issued orders that his car should never exceed the speed limit at any place.

With that, Eisenhower chided the newsmen a bit, saying that several of them had been accompanying him on his travels for years. And none of them, he said, ever before had brought to his attention that he had caused any of them any inconvenience.

Newsmen who accompanied Eisenhower last Friday reported his limousine hit 75 m.p.h. at times. Nowhere along the 80 mile route does the speed limit permit more than 55 m.p.h.

On other matters:
TAXES AND BUDGET—Eisenhower said he certainly hopes there can be a tax cut before the end of his second term but he declined to speculate as to just when a reduction may be possible.

As for the administration's $71,800,000,000 budget for the new fiscal year, beginning July 1, Eisenhower said he sees no chance for what he called a substantial cut such as two billion dollars.

Always Seeks Savings
But efforts are being made constantly to find ways to achieve savings, he said, adding that the goal is to tighten up wherever possible without abandoning essential programs.

CHINESE ISLANDS—Eisenhower said he never has given the Chinese Nationalists any assurance the United States would help defend the islands of Quemoy and Matsu if Red China attempted to take them.

This statement came when he was asked for comment on a new biography of Secretary of State Dulles. The author, John Robinson Beal, wrote that Eisenhower sent Nationalist China's President Chiang Kai-shek a secret personal letter "satisfying him the United States would help defend Quemoy and Matsu."

Seek Canal Solution
EGYPT—The United States still is working very closely with the U.N. in trying to bring about a satisfactory solution of the controversy over the Suez Canal, Eisenhower said.

EDEN-MOLLET—Eisenhower denied a published report that last November he invited Sir Anthony Eden then Britain's prime minister, and French Premier Mollet to come to Washington for discussion of the Middle East crisis.

The President said he, Eden and Mollet had a great deal of discussion regarding the wisdom of such a meeting, but decided it should not be held until the world situation was right.

GOP Are Alerted
POLITICS — Commenting on Democratic election victories in Michigan and Texas, Eisenhower said the Republicans are alert to the situation they face and are really going to go to work.

He made that remark when a reporter asked whether he regarded the Texas and Michigan Democratic victories as a bad omen for the Republicans.

DISABILITY—Defending his proposal that the Cabinet be authorized by constitutional amendment to decide when a president is disabled and unable to serve, Eisenhower said he assumes we are dealing with honest people and not with people jockeying for position to seize power. His proposed amendment, the President said, is intended to fit that—dealing with honest people—situation.

CAA PROBING PLANE CRASH

SELINGROVE, Pa. (AP)—State police and Civil Aeronautics Administration investigators Wednesday probed the wreckage of a four-seater airplane that crashed into a mountain, killing an Erie pilot. The wreckage, with the burned body of pilot John Zysk on top of the engine, was found yesterday just 25 feet below the crest of Branch Mountain. The site is about 10 miles northwest of Mif-

DEMOCRATS ARE VICTORS IN RACE FOR TEXAS SEAT

By ROBERT E. FORD
DALLAS (AP)—Democrats nailed down control of the U. S. Senate today with a victory by Ralph Yarborough over 18 other candidates.

The affable Yarborough, 53, came back from four previous election defeats to swamp another Democrat, the nationally known Rep. Martin Dies of Un-American Activities Committee fame, and the GOP hopeful, Thad Hutcheson, his only close opponents.

Republicans had high hopes of winning with Hutcheson and taking over Senate leadership. The Democrats have a paper-thin 49-47 edge there now. A GOP victory would have created a 48-48 tie. Vice President Nixon would have the tiebreaking vote.

Has Long Lead
Yarborough had 310,842 votes tabulated when then unofficial vote-gathering Texas Election Bureau shut up shop early Wednesday. Dies had 255,016 and Hutcheson 202,721.

Three other candidates of statewide prominence got insignificant ballot totals.

State Sen. Searcy Bracewell had 30,392; Austin Atty. James P. Hart, former University of Texas Chancellor and former State Supreme Court justice 17,669; and State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White 9,073.

Handful For Others
The other 13 candidates got only a handful of votes.

Yarborough, a successful Austin attorney, lost once, years ago, in a race for state attorney general. Then he lost three races for governor, the last time by about 3,000 votes in a party runoff last fall with Sen. Price Daniel, whose resignation from the Senate to become governor left the vacancy calling for yesterday's special election.

The victor is a strong party backer. He refused to bolt to President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956 when many Texas Democrats went over to the President's side. Eisenhower carried this formally Democratic state both times.

Bears Silent Label
Yarborough bore the label of liberal in Texas elections, but his views would be considered moderate to conservative in some quarters.

He favors the oil depletion allowance which permits some tax credit to oilmen for the petroleum and gases they take from the ground, and is a states' rights man on many issues. He is against federal school aid if it means federal control and opposes use of force to integrate public schools.

His main platform plank was raising income tax exemptions from the present $500 to $800.

The election issue was just what Rep. Dies said it would be—conservative vs. liberal, instead of Republican vs. Democrat.

GERMAN TAKES NATO COMMAND; REVIEWS GUARD

PARIS (AP)—Lt. Gen. Hans Speidel, German deputy commander in France during World War II, Wednesday took command of Allied land forces in Central Europe. His French superior declined to shake his hand for a picture.

The first top member of the old Nazi Wehrmacht to take a top NATO command, Speidel was installed in a brief ceremony in a courtyard of Fontainebleau Palace, headquarters of the West European command.

Speidel and French Gen. Jean-Etienne Valluy, commander in chief of Allied forces in Central Europe, reviewed an honor guard after a French army band played the West German national anthem and then the French anthem.

When photographers asked the two commanders to pose shaking hands, Valluy declined, saying, "Oh, you've had enough pictures," Speidel said nothing.

Flurry Of Protests
Speidel's appointment caused a minor flurry of protest in France. The French government was said to have approved the action chiefly because of its own diminished forces in Central Europe and because Speidel's record in Hitler's army was mainly that of a military thinker and planner.

Speidel, 59, made no statement during today's ceremony.

His command is made up of forces from West Germany, Belgium, Luxembourg, Canada, France, Holland, Britain and the United States. He succeeds French Gen. Marcel Carpentier, who resigned last year.

The quiet, bespectacled German general served as chief of staff to Field Marshal Erwin Rommel in the World War II days of the Normandy invasion. Although linked with the bomb plot against Hitler in July 1944, he denied any participation. He was arrested by the Gestapo in September 1944 and spent the last months of the war in a Nazi jail. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer named him the senior German military representative at Supreme Allied Headquarters when West Germany was admitted to NATO.

$4,750,000 IS ALLOCATED FOR FLOOD CONTROL

HARRISBURG (AP)—A total of $4,750,000 was under allocation by the State Civil Defense Council today for flood control projects in Western and Northeastern Pennsylvania.

"All projects will be completed by the end of 1959," state director Richard Gerstell said. He added that some were already under way.

The largest allocation was $2,755,000 to Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg, both badly damaged by 1955 floods.

Other allocations were: Warren $79,000, Scranton $1,464,000, Turtle Creek $350,000, and Bucks County $98,000.

The source of the money is the special disaster relief fund established by the 1955 legislature through an additional tax on gasoline of one cent.

Must Furnish Land
Gerstell said local communities would contribute "by providing necessary land and rights-of-way and by assuming future maintenance costs."

The Stroudsburg project includes construction of 8,700 feet of levees and more than 500 feet of concrete wall. A pumping station and major channel clearance on Brodhead Creek are also planned.

At Scranton, 2,500 feet of concrete-lined channel will be built along Roaring Brook. Dredging will be done along 9,500 feet of Lackawanna River.

The Turtle Creek Valley project is mostly dredging work along parts of Turtle Creek and Thompson Run in East Pittsburgh, Turtle Creek and Wilmerding.

The Bucks County job calls for construction of earthen levees along parts of Little Nesaminy Creek in Warrington Twp.

Channel paving work along Glade Run in Warren is designed to eliminate a chronic industrial flooding problem, the council said.

JOHN ENGLISH BACKS PROBE ON CORRUPTION

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate racketers, it was learned today, are getting encouragement and tips from John English, veteran secretary-treasurer of the Teamsters Union and critic of the union's president Dave Beck.

English, credited with curbing Beck's plans for a million-dollar publicity program and other spending proposals, was reported to have told Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel for the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, to "carry on the good fight" to help rid the Teamsters of any corrupt influences.

Kennedy paid English a visit late Tuesday in the palatial 5½-million-dollar Teamsters Building. English has the union's No. 2 job, second only to Beck, in the headquarters organization.

"Friendly Session"
Beck, who invoked the Fifth Amendment for two days last week in refusing to tell the Senate committee about his financial affairs, sat only a few feet away in his own office while English and Kennedy spoke privately in what was described as "a very friendly" session.

Kennedy told newsmen he was leaving the capital for a week's gum-shoeing tour of New York and Chicago, and possibly Seattle, chasing down leads.

The committee has been in recess since the middle of last week. Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) has said hearings on Scranton, Pa. Teamsters and building trades union matters are next in line, probably starting April 15.

Trims Beck's Demands
English apparently succeeded at a Teamsters Executive Board meeting Monday in trimming down Beck's announced plan to spend a million dollars in union funds to tell Beck's own story of financial deals uncovered by the Senate committee.

Beck made no mention of his earlier plan Tuesday as he announced a new public relations program he said was for the "primary purpose" of combating "any unfair, restrictive, anti-labor legislation." This was reported to be limited to $150,000 or $200,000, on a one-year basis, with the understanding the money would not be used in Beck's behalf. Beck gave no cost figure.

In Chicago, two union vice presidents issued a joint statement last night saying the board "voted to continue normal expenditures for public relations purposes."

John T. O'Brien and William A. Lee said in the statement the million-dollar proposal was set aside "pending further study," and would be presented to the "rank-and-file" at the union's September convention in Miami.

ASK MORE DATA ON FOREIGN AID FOR YUGOSLAVIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special Senate committee sought elaboration today on the depth of Communist Yugoslavia's irritation with Russia over the postponement of "very large" Soviet loans.

The committee, studying the overall foreign aid program, called Allan B. Kline to discuss his recommendations for continued aid to Yugoslavia in "our own interest."

The former president of the American Farm Bureau Federation shared billing at a public hearing with Eric Johnston, head of President Eisenhower's International Development Advisory Board.

Kline Favors Aid
The committee made public last night Kline's report on a survey he made for it in Yugoslavia, during which he talked with Yugoslav President Tito and other leaders. In it, Kline said that the independence of the Yugoslavs from the Russian bloc "is essential to us as well as to them" and "we should continue economic aid based on our own interests as we see them."

He said Yugoslavia's opposition to becoming part of the Soviet bloc is real, and that the Yugoslavs are "very much irritated" that Russia has not carried through with the loans negotiated two years ago, at the time of renewed Yugoslav-Russian accord, on most favorable terms of interest and repayment.

In conversations with Tito, he said, "it became clear that Russia has set conditions for these credits that Yugoslavia was unwilling to meet."

Camera News

By IRVING DESFOR
The Associated Press

I've just spent a day listening to the theory and watching demonstration of direct color negatives with the new, comparatively inexpensive Type C paper.

I'm still groggy from the load of information accumulated in one sitting but convinced that the process will catch on with the more advanced photographers throughout the country and will make good quality, large sized color prints more generally available.

The new process will be fully appreciated only by those who understand how much time, painstaking skill and great expense is involved in the present dye transfer and carbo methods of making color prints. By comparison, the Type C paper with its built-in, triple-color-emulsion-surface is revolutionary in its ability to produce a finished color print of almost comparable quality in less than an hour.

However, let's not kid ourselves that this is a process for the casual camera fan or the Sunday snapshot shooter to be done in a makeshift kitchen darkroom. It has many pitfalls and requires rigid control over time, temperature and materials likely to be found only in a well equipped darkroom.

Should Raise Interest
But it should be of immediate interest to the country's professional, commercial and studio photographers.

Secondly, it should set on fire the advanced amateurs who have the skill and experience to understand, and the enthusiasm to try something new. Thirdly, it should give camera clubs a valuable new tool for group participation. Fourthly, it should provide training for young technicians in a new career in a field of photography that is bound to expand.

Stated in simplest terms, a color negative (Kodacolor or Ektacolor) is put into an enlarger and projected on a sensitized paper. When it is processed and dried, it produces a direct color print. It sounds exactly like making a black-and-white print but there are so many factors which complicate the simple procedure. Here are some of them:

A voltage regulator must be attached to the enlarger to assure precise light output. Exposure is so critical that any deviation in the electric current would change the color results. The enlarger must have a heat absorbing glass and must be absolutely rigid in multiple exposures through red, green and blue filters.

Trial And Error

Even for an expert, the first color print is a matter of trial and error, never a certainty. He must study his color negative and select two or three color compensating filters (from a choice of 36 possibilities) for correct color rendition. Along with a 2B filter to absorb ultraviolet light, this group forms a basic filter pack for white light enlarging. Adding to or eliminating a filter for necessary color changes is a matter of judgment that comes with experience but is also influenced by such items as: Type of enlarger, whether the enlarger bulb is old or new, what type of negative, its density and source of light with which it was taken (daylight, strobe, clear flash or tungsten), the emulsion number of the Type C paper (a new batch has a different color balance), how the paper was stored, condition of the solutions (fresh, near exhaustion), etc.

The temperature of the first developer is a critical 75 degrees and may not vary by more than one-half degree either way. Thermometers must be mercury type — not the metal, mechanical type — for absolute accuracy. A thermostatic mixing valve unit simplifies the job of keeping temperature uniform.

Rubber Gloves Needed

Rubber gloves must be worn in the tray development method because the bleaching solution is quite strong and can even affect stainless steel tanks in time unless they have silver solder joints. Hard rubber or red brass tanks are recommended for the bleach.

Correct agitation during processing also is critically important. In tray development, prints must be agitated once a minute for 15 seconds. In tank development and for quantity work, a method and equipment have been developed to agitate by bursts of nitrogen gas at stated intervals. The nitrogen comes in tanks, is inert, non-toxic, odorless and efficient.

Type C paper should be stored in a deep freeze or kept in a refrigerator until about to be used. Only enough should be taken out for current work. If kept at normal room temperature for more than 24 hours, there may be a shift in that paper's color balance.
